GERMANS CAPTURE KOVNO FORT

Get 400 Cannon And War Material

ZEPPELINS RAID LONDON, TEN DIE

LOSS MEANS MUCH TO CZAR'S FORCES

London, Aug. 18.—The British steamer Bonny of 2,720 tons and the Spanish steamer Isidoro, 2044 tons gross, have been sunk. Twenty-one of the crew of the former vessel and eight of the latter were picked up. The trawler George also was sunk. Her crew was saved.

London, Aug. 18.—Ex-premier Eleutherios Venizelos, today notified King Constantine of his readiness to form a new Grecian cabinet in succession to the Hounaris ministry, which resigned at the opening of the Grecian parliament yesterday.

Berlin, Aug. 18 (by wireless to Sarrille, N. Y.)—The following announcement was made here officially today:

"The fortress of Kovno together with all the forest and an amount of war material which has not been determined has been in German hands since last night.

"More than 400 cannon were taken. The fortress was captured by storm in spite of the most tenacious resistance by the Russians."

Military experts have agreed that the loss of the fortress of Kovno would be a serious blow to the Russians. The critic of the London Times in an article published this morning says:

"If the enemy succeeds in reducing Kovno and is thereby able to cross the Niemen he will be in the rear of the Russian line north of Svanta and with the junction of the two wings of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's army the position of the Russian right flank will be very difficult."

The official German statement of yesterday announced the capture of forts on the southwest front of Kovno, together with 4,500 prisoners and 240 guns. This was interpreted as foreshadowing the fall of the fortress proper, but its accomplishment so speedily was hardly expected. The famous German general Field Marshal Von Hindenburg personally took command of the army attacking Kovno. The selection of Germany's national hero for this task indicated the importance attached to it by the German staff. Kovno is the capital of the Russian province of that name, is on the right bank of the Niemen. It is a fortress of the first class. The civilian population of the city is more than 75,000. At the time of the fall of Warsaw the

"I'LL INVESTIGATE TO LIMIT," SAYS CHIEF EXECUTIVE OF GEORGIA

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 18.—All the local machinery available to Governor Harris will be put into motion to apprehend the men who lynched Leo M. Frank at Marietta yesterday.

Governor Harris so announced today when he came from Fitzgerald, Ga., where he was attending a state Confederate veterans reunion.

"This affair is shocking and I am going to have it investigated to the very limit of my power," said Governor Harris.

He has not made up his mind exactly what will be done immediately. It is believed much will depend upon the findings of the Cobb county coroner's jury which adjourned to meet Tuesday after having a short session yesterday. The governor had not decided when he reached his office whether a reward would be offered for apprehension of members of the lynching party.

E. L. Rainier, a member of the state prison commission, arrived here today from Milledgeville. With other members of the commission he was at the prison farm when Frank was taken away. Like R. E. Davidson, chairman of the commission, he is of the opinion that nothing would be gained by an investigation of the events at the penitentiary. Mr. Davidson left Milledgeville early today for Atlanta.

ATLANTA MAYOR CALLS LYNCHING JUSTICE

San Francisco, Calif., Aug. 18.—J. G. Woodward, mayor of Atlanta, Ga., in an address here last night declared that Leo M. Frank, who was lynched Monday night, suffered the "just penalty for an unspeakable crime." The Atlanta mayor at the same time warned former Governor John M. Slaton, now in California not to return to Georgia.

Mayor Woodward's address was made at a banquet of the California State Assessors' Association. Little or no applause greeted his remarks although he was listened to with close attention.

In the course of his speech, Mayor Woodward said: "I am going to take occasion

THIRTY-SIX ARE INJURED

Petrograd, Aug. 18.—German aeroplanes are persistently bombarding the city of Vilna, about fifty miles east of Kovno. The possibility of the capture of Vilna by the Germans is foreseen in Petrograd, and operations preliminary to its evacuation are in progress.

London, Aug. 18.—The outskirts of London were raided last night by Zeppelins. Ten persons were killed. The damage to property was not important.

One Zeppelin is believed to have been hit. Thirty-six persons were injured. The air raid was over the eastern counties of England.

A Central News Despatch from Amsterdam says four Zeppelins were sighted passing over the island of Vliet and Wieringer, off the Netherlands coast. The dirigibles were sailing from the east in the direction of the English coast. The hours of their appearance is not stated.

London has been visited previously by German dirigibles during the war. On the night of May 31 Zeppelins made an attack on a district described in the official announcement as "in the metropolitan area." On that occasion about ninety bombs were dropped. Four persons were killed and a few others injured. The latest raid is the third of the new series of aerial attacks which, after a lapse of several weeks began on Monday of last week. On the two previous occasions twenty persons were killed and thirty-seven injured.

Plans have been made to raise a campaign fund of $125,000.

MAY BAR COTTON

HURRICANE SWEEPS ALL OF GULF COAST; DAMAGE IS MILLIONS

Galveston, Texas, Aug. 18—(by wireless from U. S. transport Buford)—There is considerable suffering in this city, the water system, lighting system, gas and street car systems are out of commission. There is no drinking water in the city.

Three hundred feet of the causeway has been destroyed. All officers, classified employees, enlisted men and their families are safe. (This refers to garrison at Fort Crockett.)

Beaumont, Texas, Aug. 18—Three men and one woman were killed, almost the entire population of Port Arthur made homeless and property damage estimated at more than $200,000 constitutes the toll of the tropical storm Monday night.

Austin, Texas, Aug. 18.—According to the Houston Post story of conditions at Texas City based on an interview with E. V. Rhodes, who brought the Texas City appeal for aid to Houston, the bodies of eight women were found washed ashore at Texas City, Tuesday. These bodies are supposed to have come from Galveston. In 1900 many bodies from Galveston washed up at Texas City.

San Antonio, Texas, Aug. 18.—Point Isabel, which yesterday was reported to have been flooded, is safe, according to a special news dispatch received today. The storm is said to have done little damage on the coast from Corpus Christi to Brownsville and no lives were reported lost.

Houston, Texas, Aug. 17.—(By mail to Dallas, Aug. 18.)—Though only one person, a negro, lost his life, Houston has sustained a loss estimated at from two to five million dollars in the worst tropical storm ever known on the Texas coast. Not a single business house, not a single residence escaped damage and at 4:30 o'clock this morning when the storm reached its height the barometer fell to 28.21, said to be not far from the lowest barometer reading ever known. At that time the wind attained the velocity of 90 miles an hour.

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 18.—Nearly a hundred lives were lost and millions of dollars worth of property in the West Indian hurricane that swept the Texas coast yesterday and the day before, according to information received from the stricken cities which have been cut off from wire communication with the outside world.

Up to noon, no definite news concerning loss of life had been received from Galveston, which city is believed to have been hardest hit. A newspaper man who got within sight of Galveston said the evidences of destruction that met his eyes indicated the damage there would exceed that of the 1900 storm.

At Texas City from 12 to 18 soldiers and 30 to 40 civilians were killed, according to reports published in Houston papers that reached Temple and San Antonio today. A report that the bodies of eight women washed ashore at Texas City were believed to have come from Galveston, gave the only detailed information of loss of life in the latter city.

The damage to cotton will be from 15 to 25 per cent of the entire crop of central Texas and will cost the growers millions of dollars, according to estimates based on reports received in Austin from towns in central Texas.

Eight men are reported dead near Morgan's Point and three bodies were washed up today at Sylvan Beach from some place in the bay. Six persons are reported drowned at La Porte, 20 miles southeast of Houston, on Trinity Bay. Three lives were lost at Seabrook, 20 miles from Houston, and the town practically annihilated according to reports received here. A refugee who escaped from Kemah, a coast town, said only one house was left standing in that place.

Houston is reported to have suffered damage variously estimated at from $1,000,000 to $5,000,000. (Continued On Page 6.)

Pests I Have Met

No. 13--The Tobaccoless Smoker

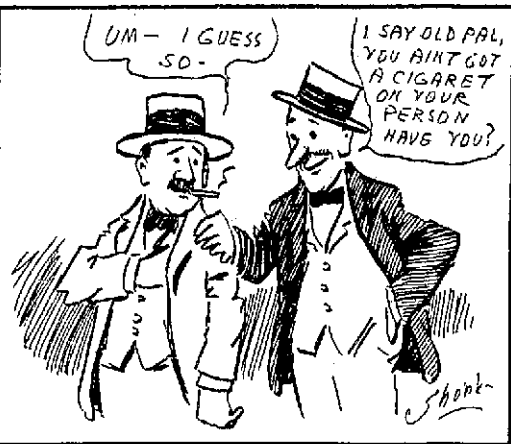

"Say, friend, you haven't an extra cigarette, have you?"

"That's the question this pest greets you with if he happens to know that you are a cigarette smoker, but he'll insist upon putting it in the question class. And if he knows that you smoke cigars or a pipe, (and he always knows) he will just substitute the necessary words.

"It has always been a wonder to me how they get away with it continuously, but they do just the same.

"Usually this pest is better able to purchase cigarettes, cigars or tobacco than you are yourself. And sometimes they do, but they usually keep them in their pockets so in case they do strike a sensible man—one who absolutely refuses to feed them tobacco—they won't have to do without it.

"This pest has more nerve than the law allows. When he sees no friend or acquaintance to get a smoke from do you think he goes without it? No, never. He'll walk up to a perfect stranger, strike up some kind of a conversation. Naturally this stranger, if he is a smoker, won't talk very long before he wants to smoke. Usually, out of courtesy he asks

THIS IS ME ON DRESS PARADE

Take my advice when you join the army and be an officer. It's a heap nicer to be an officer and not have to walk the guard lines and th' like in th' hot sun. Th' aint much comfort on th' guard lines on a hot day, and my experience has been that in camp most days are hot. Just for fun I've a notion to scare up a rain and give th' boys in York Park a real taste o' th' life. Here's for tomorrow:

Believe Killing Stopped Robberies

Maysville, Aug. 18.—The killing of Jerry Lewis at the county infirmary crossing several weeks ago when he and another negro engaged in a pistol duel with Officer Dudley Bloomhoff, is given by the C. & O. railroad officials as the cause of the immediate stopping of the almost daily robbery of freight trains between this city and the Covington yards. Before the killing west bound freight train No. 35 which passes through this city west every afternoon heavily loaded with merchandise, had been running into the Covington yards almost every afternoon with one or more cars broken open and considerable merchandise missing. The railroad officers were busily engaged at the time of the killing in trying to secure some clue to the robbery but they were unable to find anything that would lead to an unraveling of the mystery. They even had detectives lay in watching at various stations along the line between here and Covington for they had watched the train and had found that the robberies were committed sometime after the train had left Maysville and before it arrived at Covington but they found nothing. After the killing of Lewis here the railroad officers had noticed that the trains have run into Covington without any cars being broken open and the peculiar fact that there has been no car robberies on this road between Maysville and the yards since the shooting.

Finds Snake Around The Leg Of A Chair

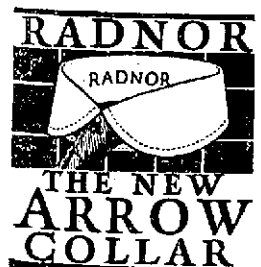

Clay Mershon, a local package deliveryman received the scare of his life Wednesday morning when he began unloading household goods of Mrs. Irene Woods, who today moved from Dry Run on the West Side to 314 Fourth street. When Mr. Mershon began handing out the household goods piece at a time he noticed something coiled itself around the leg of a chair. Closer inspection showed it to be a genuine copperhead snake and then the excitement began. Mr. Mershon summoned the aid of neighbors in the vicinity of 314 Fourth street and a snake killing battle was on. Mr. Mershon finally dispatched the reptile with a brick.

College Of Business To Open August 30

With fine prospects ahead, and with everything in apple-pie order, the Portsmouth College of Business will open its fall term on Monday, August 30, after a close-down of some time for the summer vacation. The office rooms and main study room have been completely overhauled. The interior of these rooms have been painted and new paper added, all of which makes them very attractive and restful. The old typewriters have been discarded and a big battery of Remington machines will take their places, making this college one of the best equipped in the state.

C. C. Bridwell, who is in charge of the splendid institution, states that the outlook for students is very flattering, indeed. Young people have come to the point where they realize that to be well fortified to fight the battles of life they must be well equipped along educational lines, especially business training. And at no institution in the country can they secure a better foundation than at the Portsmouth College of business.

TWELVE CANDIDATES

The Royal Neighbors will meet in their hall on Gallia street Thursday evening. A class of twelve candidates will be initiated. A social session with ice cream and cake as refreshments will follow the business session.

He has some yellow tomatoes of unusual size several weighing over a pound apiece.

Harrisonville Reunion Immensely Enjoyed

Residents from all over Scioto, Jackson, Lawrence and Pike counties attended the annual reunion and home coming at Harrisonville, Tuesday. It is estimated that between four and five thousand visitors enjoyed the day. The event was observed at Shuter's grove near Harrisonville. Ideal weather favored the day. It was just cool enough to be comfortable and although a drizzling rain fell it in no way marred the day's pleasure.

A balloon ascension in the morning was one of the features of the day. Two ball games also attracted many people. South Webster and Harrisonville clashed for honors in the first game, Harrisonville winning by a score of 11 to 7. The Blue Run team came out victorious in the second game over Slocum by a score of 7 to 4. No accidents occurred to mar the day. Refreshment stands did a thriving business. Constable Wausser Biekey had a force of deputies on the grounds seeing that order prevailed.

Attorney Joseph T. Micklethwait of Portsmouth delivered the principal address of the day, directing his address toward the veterans, many of whom were on the grounds. Attorneys Mark A. Crawford and H. T. Bannion, who were also to have delivered addresses, were unable to appear, owing to business engagements.

The 1915 reunion was a complete success and the many visitors from Portsmouth, Ironton, Jackson, Waverly, Beaver, Stockdale, Lucasville and other points immensely enjoyed the event.

GEORGE RIGHT ON THE JOB

City Engineer George Wilhelm is carefully looking after the paving work on Gallia pike. Wednesday morning he had Contractors S. Monroe and Sons tear out sixty feet of cement curb and gutter that was out of line. The laborer setting the forms missed one of the grade stakes.

Driving Ford touring cars from Cincinnati to Union, Monroe county, West Virginia, L. L. Looney and Gus M. Kealey were arrested Wednesday morning by Officer Moore and Captain Cooper for running an auto without a license. The men in police court claim that they were told in Cincinnati that as the cars were new ones they were entitled to drive them through the state without a license. The mayor informed them that they were violating a state ordinance and that in going into cities had better notify officials of their arrival until they got to their own state, where they are allowed fifteen days to secure a license. The mayor dismissed them.

Charges of disorderly conduct have been preferred against G. T. King, growing out of his alleged boisterous conduct on the streets. He will be given a hearing tonight in police court.

SIX PAINTERS EMPLOYED BY ED BREHMER QUIT

Six union painters employed by Ed Brehmer laid down their brushes Wednesday morning and refused to work longer, Mr. Brehmer stating that they had been ordered off the job by Harry Strong, business agent of the Building Trades Council, because Mr. Brehmer was doing some work for the Portsmouth Construction Company, which is regarded as unfair by the union labor officials.

Mr. Brehmer stated Wednesday afternoon that he saw no chance for an early settlement, as he had to carry out his contract. In discussing the matter he said further: "I did not ask the men to work on the job of which they complained, but sublet it to a non-union painter. Mr. Strong said that made no difference. My men and I parted on the best of terms personally, all of them saying that they would like to continue in my employ."

The work complained of was on the Elk residence on Robinson avenue, according to Mr. Brehmer, on which the Portsmouth Construction Co. is also doing some work.

THE FRANK LYNCHING.

The state of Georgia today is on trial before a shamed and horror-stricken sisterhood of states. Upon the activity or non-activity of the authorities of that state in ferreting out and punishing the men who took Leo Frank from the state penitentiary and hanged him to a tree, depends whether or not the name of Georgia shall go down into history a by-word and a reproach to civilized communities. And even at that, it is doubtful if the proper punishment can erase the stain upon the fair name of Georgia caused by this wanton outrage. This man Frank had been convicted by the murder of a little girl upon the most questionable of circumstantial evidence. The best minds in the country, after careful review of the case came to the conclusion that there was not sufficient evidence to justify a death sentence. The governor of Georgia, after careful study, came to the same conclusion and commuted the death sentence to imprisonment for life. Then when Frank had been taken to the state penitentiary he was first assaulted and frightfully stabbed by another convict. Next came the crowning outrage, the attack upon the prison Monday night by a mob, the removal and subsequent lynching of Frank. It is a sad and shameful story, a story that breathes reproach upon the officials of Georgia at almost every step. What kind of a penitentiary have they in Georgia, what kind of cowardly officials have they at that prison, that a disorderly mob could work its will unmolested?

There ought to be a house cleaning in Georgia. The members of that mob should be run to earth and hanged; the officials of that penitentiary should be removed from office and if possible sent back there as convicts.

Georgia will see to this if respect for law and order exists in Georgia at all.

One of the things we cannot understand is why a city will spend a lot of money in laying a perfectly level brick paved street and then allow Tom, Dick and Harry to come along and dig up parts of it whenever their fancy dictates in order to lay gas mains or water mains or some other kind of mains. Why not issue word prior to paving a street that all connections must be made before the work is started and that after the paving is done the street cannot be torn up for any five years, for any purpose whatsoever.

On the brick part of the new Chillicothe Pike paving you run along as smooth as a parlor floor. On the concrete portion that has been opened you go along bumpety-bump. The brick portion was opened to travel ten days after the last brick was laid. The concrete portion lay for four or five weeks under a clay bank before it was opened to travel. Little things but some of the minor reasons why brick is the ideal paving material.

The voracious James Ball Naylor perpetrates to this effect in the Marion Star: The most economical housewife still lives, and in Ohio, of course. She buys little ice in the summer time, because it melts so fast, but in winter she takes huge hunks of it because it lasts so long.

As evidence of good faith, the Marion Star suggests the steel mills cut some of the profits out of the huge bills they are going to sell for that mammoth navy the government is going to build. And it is in the Marion Star that we have 467 times, in the past twelve moons, read that Democratic free trade had ruined the steel industry.

It is well enough for the triumphant remnants of the gang to hug the delusion of "the 500 Democrats who are going to vote against Frick," but, well, it would be of advantage, perhaps, to consider the Republicans to be found here and there that are going to vote against Kops.

It isn't true "that a number of west side citizens, who are talking about enjoying the laying of traction rails on the Scioto bridge" are direct descendants of the fossils that are being dug out of the Hayman mound. They have no existence at all.

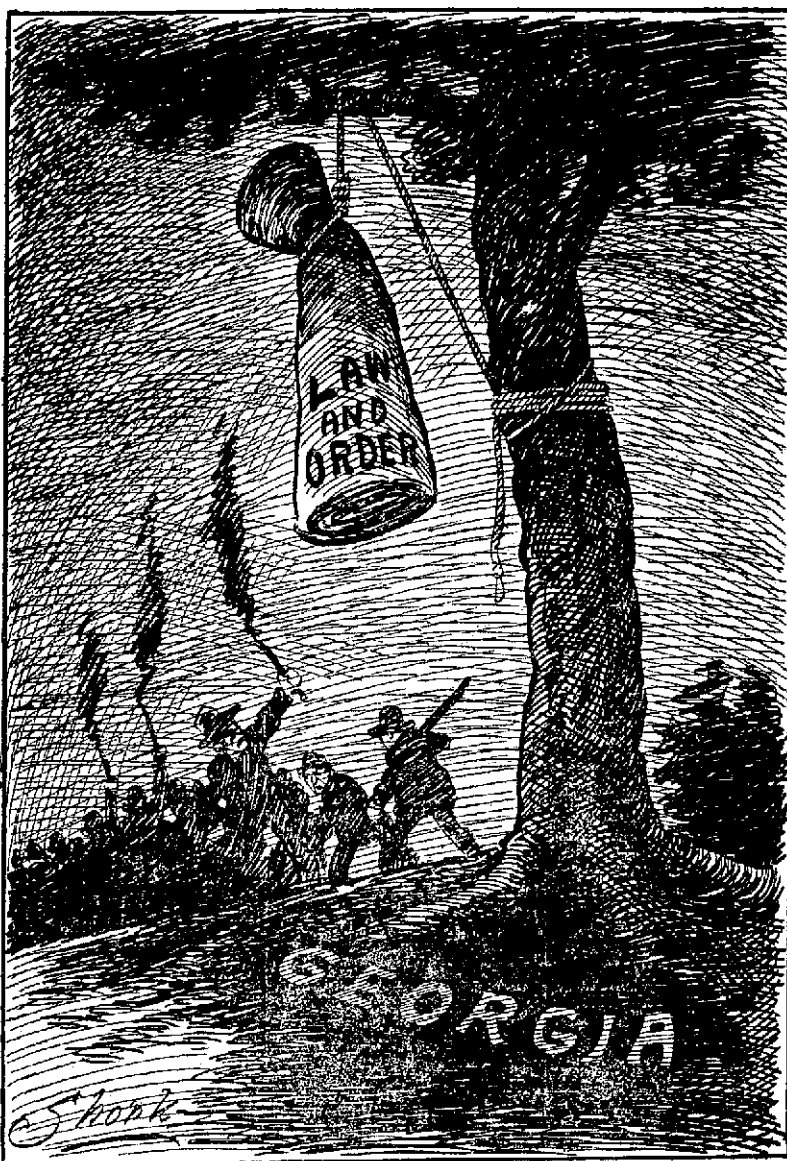

Contractor George White denies he said he would not finish the township until the new commissioners came in. It is not worth while to deny; it is perfectly plain he does not intend to finish it until then and then a right smart spell afterwards.

There are no 42 centimetre guns trained on York Place, but the boys in camp there are in grave danger nevertheless. The United Army of Flood Wall Belles is on parade and doing its best to demoralize the enemy.

"Extra Times, all about Leo Frank Lynching!" Didn't it make those of you who had been holding up your hands in horror at "German savagery in Belgium" and "Russian barbarism in East Prussia" hide your heads in shame?

We lay no claim to be one of the oldest inhabitants hereof, but we do solemnly vouch that we can recall both a spring and summer, where quite frequently there were spells of dry weather, when it did not rain for as long as three days.

THE REAL VICTIM.

STEAMSHIP AND RAILWAY ACCIDENTS.

Accidents to passengers on railways are fewer in proportion to the number of travelers than on steamships, says the Railway Age Gazette in an article comparing railway and steamship accident statistics, suggested by the Eastland disaster.

"Accidents on the railways of the United States are too numerous, but when something suggests comparison between their accident record and the records of other classes of concerns in this country the record of the railways is seldom found to be so bad relatively as most people think. When the lake steamship Eastland turned over in the Chicago river recently about 1,000 passengers were drowned. Never in their history did all the railways of the United States together kill that many passengers in all ways in a year. In only two years of the last ten has the federal steamship inspection service compiled the statistics of steamship accidents so as to show separately the number of fatalities to passengers. These were 1906 and 1914. In 1906 American steamships carried 330,235,950 passengers, of whom 323 were killed in accidents, or 1 in 1,022,000. In the same year the railways carried 797,946,116 passengers, of whom 359 were killed, or 1 in 2,232,000. The railways killed less than one-half as many passengers in proportion as the steamships. In 1914 the steamships carried 318,094,317 passengers, of whom 105 were killed, or 1 in 3,020,000. In the same year the railways carried 1,053,133,716 passengers, of whom 265 were killed, or 1 in 3,978,000. Here, again, the railways were relatively the safer.

As fine apples as we have seen anywhere, unusually large, well shaped, excellent color and perfectly sound were brought to The Times office this week, by Dr. W. J. Keyes. They are a splendid illustration in the value of knowing how. Dr. Keyes is just dabbling in an orchard as a side line and to see what can be done in fruit culture hereabouts. The apples were grown by him from old trees, abandoned years ago. He treated those trees according to advanced methods in horticulture and the result is fruit as fine as anyone would wish to set his teeth into, and a big yield. The result is satisfactory, it ought to be inspiring, to a thousand and more others to go and do likewise.

It looks like the labor unions might with profit consider how they came out in the late melee in the Republican camp. Viewing it most tolerantly, it didn't commend itself highly to the on-looker to see one set of officers ascertain unions apparently endorsing one candidate for mayor, while another set of officers from the unions were endorsing another. A little less promiscuous handing about of official signatures wouldn't hurt at all.

The prohibition state of Kansas reports a snake eighteen feet in length and a foot thick. Just some one trying to cast insinuations, no doubt.—Marion, Ohio, Tribune.

Meet In New Hall

The Women's Benefit Association of the Macechies held their regular meeting Tuesday evening in their new hall, Sixth and Chillicothe streets. There was a good attendance. The election of officers will be held the first meeting night in September. A social affair will follow the election.

At The Reunion
County Auditor T. C. Patterson spent Tuesday at the Harrisonville reunion.

Strange how people will cling to belief in spooks and other things. The Bluefield Telegraph opposes the holding of the next Republican national convention in Chicago, because it was there Theodore the Terrible, jinxed the elephant four years ago.

A Reading, Pennsylvania, man, refused to become mayor until the salary of the place was cut from $3,500 to $1. He probably realizes what he is worth, so give him credit for that, at least.

We trust nothing personal is intended in the thrust of the Huntington Advertiser that some people are so concerned about growing and preserving trees that they haven't time to cut the weeds in their back yard.

A woman always hates for the old man to loaf around the house with a shirt with half a dozen missing buttons, and no collar. But it is all right for her to loaf around the house in a greasy old kimono and no corset.—Columbia State.

The prospect of enormous crops and steady widening of activity in the steel industry gives Henry Clevs reason to say that the coming fall season promises to be a satisfactory one for the United States.

Curiously enough, when a man is down and out he is about all in.

Another obstacle thrown in the way to matrimony. Women's gowns are going to button up the back.

Galveston's famed sea wall may have its uses, but they seem rather puny when old Neptune goes on a rampage.

New York, August 18.—Old Bill Snyder wins again! For weeks the veteran friend of animals in the Central Park Zoo has maintained a baby zebra makes his debut with his stripes distinctly marked. Other keepers said the stripes came with age. The question was settled last week by Mrs. Nancy Zebra. It was a boy.

The four spindling legs with a touch of baby zebra on top won Bill's undying affection from the moment its eyes opened. It had stripes. "Some class," said Bill. "Them girls out by the fence looking in with their up-to-the-minute black and white stripes ain't got nothing on this baby."

George—just plain George—is the unromantic name by which the newcomer will go down in the history of the zoo. It would seem that the youngster should have a high sounding handle like Theobald or Cecil, but the veteran keeper believes that studied simplicity is the key of real art, even in the zoo.

Charles R. Barnes, known up and down Broadway as the writer of famous stories about Tenderloin characters, has been starring in what might be made into a movie thriller down at Atlantic City. Barnes and his wife opened their summer cottage there several months ago.

They have a baby being cared for in an incubator there and not long ago two persons forced their way into the incubator place and demanded to see the Barnes baby. They returned several times and Barnes became so alarmed that he notified Chief of Police Woodruff. That official quickly placed two plain clothes men on the job with orders to arrest any one who attempted to molest the baby.

Barnes refused to discuss the case as the publicity has been very distasteful but correspondents for out-of-town papers have learned that kidnapping was probably attempted. The principals are a New York woman, well known in the Broadway grills, and an Atlantic City man. It is thought that the baby was to be held for a ransom. Barnes' literary friends are wondering what would constitute a ransom from an author—25 or 40 cents?

It was the time of the Famous Rush for home on Fifth Avenue. A bibulous party driving a henry—which is B. L. T.'s aptronymic for a Ford—had three friends with him in a similar condition. At Forty-Second street and Fifth Avenue the bibulous party stalled his engine.

He was not even non-plused. He nonchalantly dug in his inside coat pocket and brought forth two base burners with gold bands and held them out to the traffic cop.

Too Busy to Get News
The Telegram has been very busy for the past week and a number of very important items have occurred that have not been mentioned in this paper for the reason that the editor has not had time to investigate the facts and our reporter has been busy also.

It's A Cinch
"How am I to pronounce Novogeorgievsk in the war news without dropping my chewing gum?" asks an East End girl. Don't pronounce it, gargle it.

A Woman's a Woman After All
"My wife," said the tall, lantern-jawed man, "is as womanly as you can find; but she can hammer nails like lightning."

"Wonderful!" sang the chorus. "Lightning," the tall, lantern-jawed man continued, "seldom strikes twice in the same place."

Contract Fulfilled
"You promised me a company," complained the manager of the Plunkville Op'ry House, "and here you show up with only your wife and yourself."

"Two is a company," declared Yorick Hamm. "But how about you?" You guaranteed me an audience.

"Well, there's three people out front. Three is a crowd!"—Pittsburgh Post.

Poor Swimmers
"Society is so shallow," mused the parlor philosopher. "It's a good thing it is," retorted the mere man, "or half the people who are wading around in it would get drowned."—Judge.

A Salesman
The depression in business caused a local jeweler to discharge his experienced man, replacing him with a high-school graduate—a youth just out of school. He appeared very anxious to learn, and the proprietor at the end of the first week was much pleased with results. One day the merchant was obliged to be away from the store, and upon his return inquired:

"Well, Frank, did you sell anything while I was out?" "Yes, sir; I sold five plain band rings."

"Fine my boy!" said the jeweler, enthusiastically. "We'll make an Al salesman out of you one of these days. You got the regular price for them, of course?"

"Oh, yes, sir. The price on the inside was 18c., and the man took all that were left, sir."—Harper's Magazine.

'Tis True
The scandal-monger is the submarine of the human race.—Life.

Sounded Like It
"Gertrude," asked the teacher, "what were the causes of the Revolutionary War?"

"It had something to do with automobiles, but I did not understand just what," replied Gertrude.

"Oh, no!" said the teacher. "That was before the day of automobiles."

"Well, it said it was on account of unjust taxis," said Gertrude firmly.—Harper's Magazine.

A Queer Time to Boast
Two men sat on the river bank, fishing. One had a bite, and in the excitement he fell into the water. The other man watched him struggle, but did nothing to aid him.

"I can't swim!" shouted the man in the water. He went under, and when he came up he shouted again: "I can't swim!"

The man on the bank watched him with languid interest. The man in the water sank again. When he came up he gasped: "I can't swim!"

"Well, my friend," commented the man on the bank, "this is a queer time to be boasting of it."—Tit-Bits.

She Couldn't Stand That
"Why did she throw over that young man?"

"Seems he was an efficiency expert."

"Well!"

"And he tried to tell her she didn't know how to kiss."

Two Curing Experts
Ned: My papa is a veterinarian. Ted: What's that?

"He cures cows and calves when they are sick."

"Huh! My father can do greater things than that."

"What can he do?"

"He is a butcher and he cures cows and calves after they are dead."

His Sacrifice
"George, where are your school books?"

"When notices appeared that books were wanted for the wounded, I gave mine to them."—Humorist's Lusty (Prague).

Faulty Geography
The agent for a "small time" vaudeville circuit recently received a telegram from a well known performer, who asked for bookings.

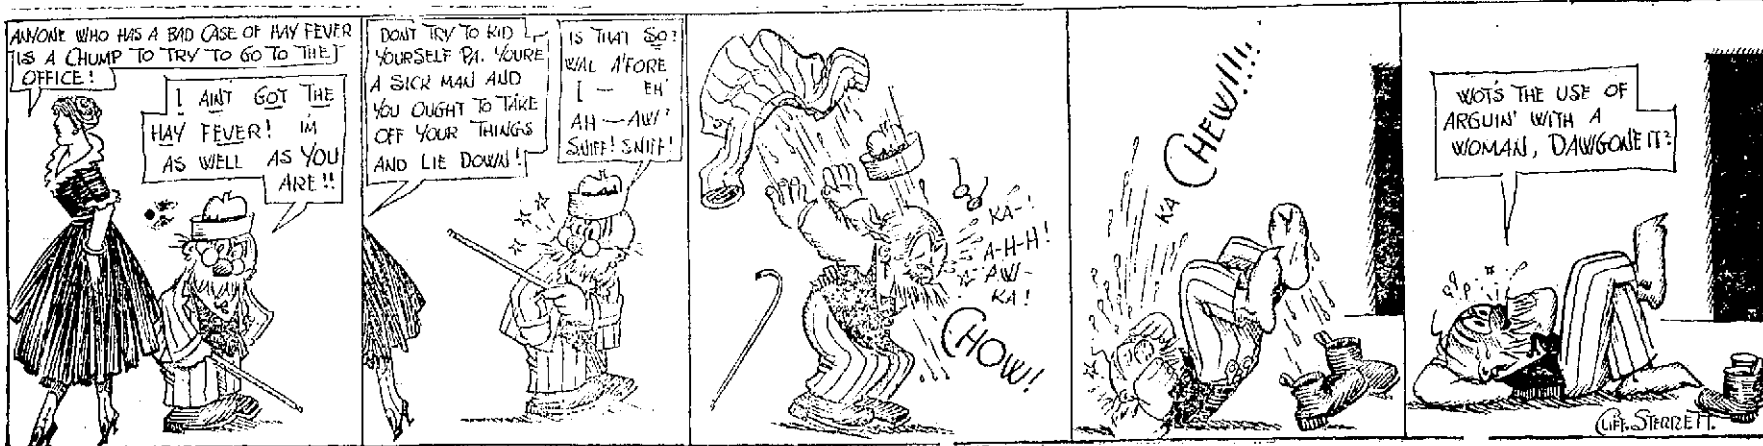

"Can offer you New Castle week of Sept. 2," the agent telegraphed, "wire acceptance."

In reply came the telegram: "Week Sept. 2, New Castle, O. K."

"That guy must be a low-brow," chuckled the manager, as he showed the message to some friends, "he says, 'New Castle, O. K.' when anybody ought to know it's New Castle, Pa."

The Markets

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York Air Brake's decline of over 2 points followed the decision of the regular dividend whereas an increase had been expected. Reading was heaviest of the railways, losing over a point with fractional recessions in the Pacific, grangers and trunk lines.

Meantime, obscure specialties, like American Hide and Leather, American Lined and Pittsburgh Coal issues, gained from 2 to 5 points. There was further "future" selling of foreign owned bonds at small concessions.

Speculation in the less prominent war shares and allied industrial was renewed in today's early trading, gains ranging from one to over four points. Conspicuous features included American Steel Foundries, Railway Steel Springs, the Rumely and Allis-Chalmers issues and Colorado Fuel. Advances of one to two points were scored by Crucible Steel, American Can and a few other equally active issues. United States Steel was again in demand at a fraction over yesterday's high quotation. Railways were neglected, the only feature in that division being Rock Island, which rose over a point.

War shares became stronger in the final hour, Bethlehem Steel being the feature with a rally of almost 20 points. The closing was irregular.

Specialties again overshadowed other issues in today's market, investment stocks showing a reactionary trend.

fresh advances in prices today as a result of continued rains that interfered with threshing and shipping. According to high authority the storms have rendered the situation acute as to the movement of the bulk of the crop. Advice, however, were still optimistic regarding the yield in the spring wheat belt. After opening unchanged to 1/2c higher, with September at 1.06 1/2 to 1.06 3/4, the market steadied at a moderate general advance above yesterday's close.

Corn reflected the wheat strength. Trade, though was light, mainly between pit speculators. Opening prices which ranged from 1/4 to 3/4c higher, with September at 74 1/2 and December at 63 1/2 to 63 3/4, were followed by slight additional gains.

Wet weather was said to be having even a more damaging effect on oats than on wheat. The oats market accordingly was decidedly firm. Provisions held steady despite somewhat liberal receipts of hogs at western centers. Packers seemed to be supporting the market for ribs.

Profit taking by holders lead afterward to a setback in wheat, but word of good sized export sales brought about a subsequent rally, with Sept. at $1.06 and Dec. at $1.05 1/2. The close was unsettled at 1/2c off to 1/4 and 1/2c up compared with last night.

Later the cool temperatures prevailing induced further upturns in corn quotations. The close was steady 1/4 and 1/2 to 3/4c net higher, with Sept. 75 1/2 and Dec. 64.

TO HOLD REFERENDUM ON M'DERMOTT BILL

Columbus, Aug. 18.—There is to be a referendum on the McDermott liquor license bill. Those behind the referendum today engaged the law firm of McGhee, Davis and Boulger, of Columbus, to prepare a petition for this. It is understood that members of county liquor licensing boards are most active in the project. Petitions are to be circulated in nearly every county in the state. This work starts immediately.

LIEUT. GOV. ARNOLD'S HAT IS IN THE RING

Columbus, Aug. 18.—Lieutenant Governor John H. Arnold of Columbus was announced today as a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor. He has decided upon this course because of his belief that Governor Willis is now a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

REPORTS OF HUGE LOAN HELPS FOREIGN EXCHANGE

New York, Aug. 18.—Reports that negotiations were under way for the flotation of a big foreign loan in New York imparted strength to the foreign exchange market today, notwithstanding the opinion in well informed circles that there were yet many obstacles to placing such a loan and that in reality a remedy for the situation was no nearer than several days ago, when depreciation of foreign moneys gave rise to alarm.

Two questions loomed large in the discussion as to practicability of American bankers attempting to underwrite a loan to Great Britain or her Allies or both of them from $300,000,000 to $500,000,000. These questions were: Would the Washington administration regard the underwriting of a mammoth loan of this sort as against the spirit of American neutrality?

Could a loan of these huge proportions be placed in this country; if underwritten, on terms that Great Britain could afford to grant?

International bankers recalled the attitude taken by Washington early in the war when the subject of a large French loan was first broached. They remembered that J. P. Morgan then went to Washington and when he returned the loan was not placed and all negotiations looking to the financing of France largely in the United States were dropped because of the attitude taken by the administration that such financing might be construed as a violation of neutrality.

Since then European buyers have flooded American manufacturers and producers with war

AMERICAN SHIP CASE IN DIPLOMACY SPHERE

Washington, Aug. 18.—With the condemnation of the American cotton ship Dacia as a lawful prize by the French courts the case of the captured ship enters the sphere of diplomacy and unless an appeal is granted a strong protest based on a "denial of justice" will be probably drawn up by the state department to be forwarded to the French foreign office.

An investigation of the conditions under which the former Hamburg-American liner was purchased, will begin, it is believed, as soon as the full decision of the French courts reaches Washington. If it is established to the satisfaction of the American government that the transfer from the German to the American flag was legitimate and the change of registry was made without any stipulations which might cast suspicion on its validity, a vigorous protest will be made against the right of a belligerent to interfere with foreign-built ships flying the American flag.

The position of this government it is understood will be taken upon the broad principle of the right of the United States

ANNOUNCEMENT OF TANLAC AGENCY CREATES COMMENT

Nothing in recent years in Portsmouth has created quite as much comment of the kind as the announcement that Tanlac, the "Master Medicine", that is being introduced personally by Mr. Cooper's representative, the "Tanlac man", as he is called by the public, will be distributed here.

Portsmouth is, indeed, very fortunate to secure an exclusive agency for Tanlac, as it will be one of the first Ohio cities outside Cincinnati to derive the advantages from this remarkable preparation.

Mr. Cooper's personal representative will be located daily at the Fisher & Streich Pharmacy, 6th and Chillicothe streets, beginning tomorrow, to meet the public and explain Tanlac.

The Tanlac Man spent some busy moments yesterday meeting many citizens who personally knew Mr. Cooper, or were familiar with his personal reputation and medicine over the country.

"Prominent residents of Portsmouth," said the Tanlac Man, requested us to give the people of your city the same advantages of our medicine that we gave the people of larger cities, where Tanlac has for many months been assisting thousands of suffering people in those great sections.

"We finally yielded to the solicitations of these Portsmouth citizens, many of whom were business men, and while here I will prove to every one how easy it is to guard against inroads of ill health by safeguarding your health as carefully as you do some other features of your daily life.

"Catarrhal affections of the head, throat, nose and stomach finally produce a stuffed-up condition of the vital organs, and nine times out of ten this trouble is responsible for most of the ill health of the present-day Americans. Our faculty methods of living are back of it all, but it is never too late to correct our faults.

"Tanlac, the 'Master Medicine,' we are introducing to combat this distressing and sadly prevalent condition, we believe to be the best remedy of the kind on the American market today. This fact has been proven in many of the larger cities and will be unquestionably proven here.

Thousands now testify to the marvelous merits of Tanlac and express an abiding faith in its powers as a superior preparation."

The "Tanlac Man" will meet the people of Portsmouth, beginning tomorrow at the Fisher & Streich Pharmacy, 6th and Chillicothe streets.

100 DIE IN TEXAS

estimated as totalling from one to five million dollars but only two lives are reported lost there.

Up to noon no report had been received from Beaumont. A newspaper man who reached Virginia Point, the north end of the causeway that connects Galveston with the mainland, and viewed the stricken city, reported that nothing was to be seen of several grain elevators. He said the drawbridge in the causeway had been washed away and that the high water evidently had been several feet above the causeway. He believed the number of buildings destroyed in the city would run into thousands. He said he saw thousands of bales of cotton along the prairie between Virginia Point and Lamarque, far inland, evidently carried there from the Galveston docks. Dead farm animals also were strewn over the prairie.

Latest advices from Houston, brought to Dallas and Temple by railroad trainmen were somewhat contradictory. One reported the property damage there extended only to broken plate glass windows, and there had been no reports of loss of life; while the other stated the property loss was enormous, probably $5,000,000 and several lives had been lost. Not a word had been heard from Beaumont since Monday night. Brief wireless messages from Galveston indicated the storm was subsiding there and reported great damage to shipping and structures on the bay front. There was no confirmation of loss of life.

A wireless message received late yesterday by Fort Houston, at San Antonio, told of the army transport McClellan being left high and dry half a mile inland. The tug Waverly of the Gulf Steamship Company, which had been towing the lost large No. 1, containing 15,000 barrels of oil, arrived at Corpus Christi late last night. She had battled for 33 hours with the storm in the Gulf of Mexico and put into port in a battered condition. It was believed the aggregate damage to craft would be heavy.

With the sweeping of the storm inland the greatest damage seemed to be in the coastal plains country about Port Lavaca, a hundred miles west of Galveston. In this section a district of fruit and truck farming, much damage was reported.

Fear was held for the lives of the people in the district, as the character of the country is such as to afford full sweep to the wind.

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 18.—Definite news from Galveston, Houston, Beaumont, three isolated South Texas cities, still was lacking early today, but the high winds which have been blowing over that part of Texas between the Gulf and Dallas, and which have probably caused thousands of dollars damage to cotton and corn crops and to small buildings, apparently were dying down. Heavy rains still were falling, but in the vicinity of Waco and Dallas the wind had subsided to a breeze.

It is generally believed all danger now has passed. The work of rehabilitation will begin immediately. Telegraph and telephone officers stated early today that while they had not been in direct communication with their forces working to re-establish wire communication with Houston, Galveston and Beaumont, their plans were to have at least a few wires working into these cities by noon.

GERMANS CAPTURE KOVNO

Austrian and German forces in Russia were operating in three large divisions. From the south Field Marshal Von Mackensen pressed into Poland with the troops with which he had swept through Galicia recapturing the province from the Russians. From the west Prince Leopold of Bavaria advanced directly at the Warsaw front. From the north came the forces of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg advancing through the Baltic provinces.

The capture of Kovno will probably result in welding the northern and central Teutonic forces into a consolidated line from the Baltic provinces to Galicia. Kovno is a unit of line fortresses running from the Niemen south and east, connected by railroad. On this line are Grodno, Brest-Litovsk and Lutsk.

The capture of Kovno raises the question whether the Russians will be able to retain this line, or whether they will again be compelled to make a general retreat. Retention of the remaining positions on this front might expose the Russians to the danger of a flanking movement. The rapidity of the German advance since the fall of Warsaw on August fifth is indicated by the fact that they are within thirteen miles of Brest-Litovsk which lies about 15 miles east of the captured forts.

The line to which they may now be compelled to fall back is about 200 miles east of Warsaw. Kovno is 550 miles southwest of Petrograd, the possibility of an advance against which is now being considered in Russia. Surrounding the fortress proper, at an average distance of two and one-half miles, is a circle of forts, eleven in number. The town lies for the most part in the fork by the junction of the Niemen with the Viliya guarded by strong defenses.

JR. O. U. A. M. PREPARING FOR BIG SHAM BATTLE

Big Minstrel To Be Given Tonight At The High School

In preparation for the big sham battle Saturday afternoon, officers of the First and Second Regiments, Jr. O. U. A. M. had their men out at different times Wednesday, practicing sharp shooting, field formations, and other maneuvers. Both officers and men showed up well in the different maneuvers, and the sham battle is sure to be an exciting spectacle.

Large additions to the camp are expected Friday and Saturday and in the neighborhood of 500 men will take the field. A small fort will be constructed at one end of Millbrook Park, which will be defended by the First Regiment, with the Second Regiment as the attacking force. Col. E. A. Llewellyn will command the Second Regiment, and Col. Yarnell the First. All participants will be in full military uniform, carrying the regulation equipment.

Unless there is a change of plans, the regimental band will arrive with the delegation Friday and Saturday, and will be on hand for the sham battle. They will also play for guard mount and dress parades until the camp breaks.

A few new arrivals reported Tuesday evening and Wednesday morning, and were assigned to their regular companies. The men are enjoying camp life to the limit, and all of them vote Portsmouth as the most delightful place in which they have ever held the encampment.

Camp Llewellyn was visited Tuesday evening by Major Edward Wittenmyer, U. S. A., with headquarters at Narran, Ohio, who is enjoying a furlough at present. Major Wittenmyer, accompanied by his cousin, Judge James S. Thomas, of this city, made a thorough inspection of the camp, visiting the different regimental and battalion headquarters, the hospital and commissary departments and the privates' tents.

Before leaving he called on Colonel Llewellyn and Yarnell and complimented them highly upon the general appearance of the camp and the soldierly demeanor and excellent appearance of the men. He especially commended the two colonels on their appearance and bearing, and told them that they resembled regular army officers. The camp equipment also came in for its share of praise from Major Wittenmyer, whose thirty years of service in the regular army qualifies him to speak authoritatively.

Dress Parade
Dress parade Tuesday evening was witnessed by a large crowd of local people, who lined the flood wall and other available space near the parade grounds. The fancy maneuvers were well executed and were greatly admired.

All camp energies were bent Wednesday on making the minstrel performance at the high school auditorium this evening a big success. The performance is given by the officers and privates of the Second Regiment of Cincinnati and is said to be a scream.

"The Grassville Guards," a detachment from the Second Regiment, paraded the streets Tuesday evening in comic costumes, headed by the regimental drum corps, advertising the big show. The Guards were made up in all sorts of grotesque attire, and provided amusement for the people on the street.

Clarence Leiding, the Charlie Chaplin of the camp, also advertised the show on the streets during the evening.

Grand Finale by entire company. Sham Battle Is Coming

With the minstrel over, the officers will direct their attention to the big sham battle at Millbrook Park next Saturday afternoon, which is expected to attract a tremendous crowd. It will be the first sham battle staged in Portsmouth in years. Officers and privates of the two regiments will be in full regulation uniform, with the regulation equipment, and the spectacle should be an inspiring one.

Camp Llewellyn Notes.

A real court martial was held at Col. Yarnell's headquarters Wednesday morning. Capt. R. E. Jenny being brought before the colonel for leaving camp Tuesday without permission. Capt. Jenny went to Ironton Tuesday morning to spend the day with relatives, and upon his return Tuesday evening was placed under arrest and placed in the custody of Major Beard over night.

Major Beard was unable to enter the tent where Capt. Jenny was lodged Wednesday morning, and the guard was sent to force an entrance. Col. Yarnell detailed three special men with the guard who entered the tent and took Capt. Jenny into custody.

The prisoner was taken before Col. Yarnell, who sentenced him to five hours in the guard house. A detail was placed on guard, but a half hour later Capt. Jenny broke loose from the guard house, and, eluding his pursuers, ran away from camp. He was captured a little later in a barn behind the city buildings, where he had taken refuge. He was returned to the guard house and an extra guard was placed over him.

Where is C. W. Schmidt, the regimental quartermaster? That was the question on the lips of every man in camp Tuesday night. Schmidt disappeared Tuesday evening as if the earth had swallowed him, and was still missing Wednesday morning, despite the fact that Captain Cooper had two detectives in search for him the greater part of the night. Schmidt was the liveliest wire in camp, and is missed greatly. His friends are confident that he will turn up all right with an exciting tale of his adventure.

Schmidt was located in his tent about ten o'clock Wednesday morning, and taken before Col. Llewellyn for sentence. He was sentenced to the guard house for the remainder of the day, and a strong guard placed over him. All of his clothes were taken from him, and he was left with nothing but his B. V. D.'s to prevent him from leaving the camp. He escaped once, with his blanket wrapped about him, but was soon recaptured and overpowered. Schmidt vows that he still has something up his sleeves to outwit his captors.

Major James McArmond of the First Regiment is well known in Portsmouth, having been at the head of the Hamilton baseball club while that city was represented in the Ohio State League. He made a social call on President Gableman and other local club officials Tuesday evening.

Major McArmond was the captain of the Hamilton police force for nine years, until he was ousted by the Socialist administration two years ago.

Major McArmond was under suspicion for several hours Wednesday when a quantity of water and gas pipe was found in his tent. He was lodged in the guard house for a while, but later released on condition that he would not leave the camp for the day.

Strict military regulation is playing havoc with the commissioned officers, and at one time more than a dozen of them were either in the guard house or consigned to their own quarters. Any lack of observance of military discipline is strictly dealt with by the commanding officers.

Captain Foster was one of the officers who felt the strong hand of discipline. After working at the typewriter the greater part of the morning, attending to his duties as regimental adjutant, Captain Foster was soon shaking hands with a prisoner. Col. Llewellyn promptly ordered him to his quarters, where he fumed for a couple of hours.

Others who received similar treatment for minor offenses were Major Lang, Major Beard, Capt. Jenny and Lieutenant Lang. The victims are planning revenge on the ones who were responsible for their predicament.

City officials and members of the Bailey Post, G. A. R. will be guests of the encampment at noon mess Thursday. A baked bean dinner will be given in honor of the Civil War Veterans.

Mr. Winterhalter said that he is touring the country seeking to induce American sugar-growers to raise the best seeds here, instead of depending upon Germany, Belgium and Russia for the supply.

HOW WOMEN AVOID OPERATIONS

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Cleveland, Ohio.—"My left side pained me so for several years that I expected to have to undergo an operation, but the first bottle I took of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound relieved me of the pains in my side and I continued its use until I became regular and free from pains. I had asked several doctors if there was anything I could take to help me and they said there was nothing that they knew of. I am thankful for such a good medicine and will always give it the highest praise."

Mrs. C. H. Griffith, 1563 Constant St., Cleveland, Ohio.

Hanover, Pa.—"I suffered from female trouble and the pains were so bad at times that I could not sit down. The doctor advised a severe operation but my husband got me Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I experienced great relief in a short time. Now I feel like a new person and can do a hard day's work and not mind it. What joy and happiness it is to be well once more. I am always ready and willing to speak a good word for the Compound."

Mrs. A. T. McCloud Asks For Divorce

Suit for divorce was filed Wednesday in common pleas court by Attorneys Bannan and Bannan and Blair and Kimble, representing Nellie S. McCloud, wife of Arthur T. McCloud, of 2009 Robinson avenue, this city. Extreme cruelty is charged.

Mrs. McCloud alleges that her husband has left her four times without cause, leaving her without means of support. She further alleges that in the spring of this year he assaulted her, to such an extent that she was forced to call upon the police for protection. His conduct at that time caused Judge Beatty to sentence him to the Cincinnati workhouse for wife-beating, she says. She further accuses him of being drunk the greater portion of the time, and threatening to kill her.

In the absence of Judge Thomas, Judge Beatty granted a temporary order restraining McCloud from removing the household furniture from their home on Robinson avenue.

The petition states that the couple were married March 1, 1893, and have two children, both married.

Schools Are Ready For Fall Opening

"The public schools of Portsmouth are in better shape today than they have ever been before," said Supt. Frank Appel, Wednesday. The Garfield building is also ready to be turned over to the school board."

William J. Friel Receives Fine Chair

At night when he goes home to rest after a strenuous day at the office, William J. Friel, proprietor of an automobile garage on Fifth street can now throw himself into a finely upholstered library chair and find peace and solace. The chair, which has already been installed in the Friel home at 632 Fourth street, was the reward Mr. Friel secured from the Chalmers Motor Car company for having the best sales record of any man in this district. Mr. Friel showed up with sales total of 366 per cent, and came within a few points of winning the prize for the most successful salesman in the country.

Only recently he received a personal letter from Hugh M. Chalmers, congratulating him upon his wonderful record. The letter had a pleasing touch of humanity in it and is prized as much as the chair itself. Mr. Friel is one automobile man who believes the coming season will be bigger than the past and he proposes to sell his quota of cars.

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, enigmas, etc. Inquire of Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, N. H. Phone 30.

have written all this Dolly thinking you will know how I feel and can help me. For pity sakes do not tell me to forget him, for I cannot, even when my eyes have faded and my hair has turned to gray will I ever forget him. It makes no difference where I am or who I am with I am always thinking of him. At night I sit by my window and watch the moon sink behind the hills and the sun rise, still I am not sleepy. I can see that handsome face before me now. Dolly please tell me how I may meet him so I can live and be happy.

A HEARTBROKEN GIRL.

I am sure if you acted as foolish after meeting the young man, as you have before doing so, he would soon become disgusted with you. If he does not seek an introduction to you, get him out of your mind. You certainly cannot be in love with a man you do not even know.

Dear Dolly—Could you find out for me where I could get McGuffey's First Reader and Second Reader of 1850, and also the First and Second Reader of 1865. I would like to get the series together of the '50 and also the sixties. If any one can answer please let me hear at once.

EDUCATOR.

Ask some book dealer to give you the names of second-hand book sellers. You may find the readers in this way.

If any Times reader knows where "Educator" may get the readers, kindly advise Dolly Wise.

Dear Miss Wise—Will you give me a recipe for Grape Marmalade.

Cook the grapes as for jelly or catsup, and when very tender rub through a sieve, rejecting the seeds. Measure the pulp and add to every pint about one-half pound of sugar. Put both over the fire and boil for half an hour, stirring constantly. Put up in small jars or glasses.

Dear Dolly Wise—As you have helped so many others, I thought I would come to you for a little advice. I am a girl nineteen years of age and have a sister about three or four years older than I am. She is always bossing me about going with the young men. My parents do not object to me going with nice young men, but my sister thinks I ought to stay at home all the time, and not even go with any young girls. Do you think I am too young to walk with a fellow? Would like for you to please tell me what to do.

BLUE EYES.

As long as your parents do not object to you going with young men, I think it is all right. Ask your sister to state her objections to your company, she may know of some reason why you should not go with them. If she can give none, then abide by your mother's decision.

Worth Knowing

Instead of a frosting or icing a hot sirup is sometimes served with fresh cake—a hot chocolate sauce, or hot maple sirup which contains chopped nuts, or some other sweet concoction. This change makes of a simple cake an unusual dessert.

Pickled Walnuts

Wipe 100 walnuts, prick with a large needle and put them into a jar, sprinkling as you lay them in with the following spices, mixed: cloves, allspice, nutmeg, whole pepper and sliced ginger, of each an ounce; one-half pint mustard seed, four cloves of garlic and a stock of horseradish. Then add two tablespoonsful of salt and sufficient boiling vinegar to cover the whole. Cover the jar and tie closely.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Secret)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these regular, unobstructed waste products, the blood is impure, the complexion sallow, the eyes mentally sluggish, dull-eyed, wrinkled and salivary of face." But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing evil effects, is the real secret. Fortunately, there is a prescription of unquestioned merit, which may now be had in convenient tablet form. Its use is due largely to an ingredient derived from the humble may apple, or its root, which has been called "repelebe" because of its effectiveness—though of course it is not to be classed with the real colored oil of tropical origin. There is no habit-forming constituent in "repelebe" tablets—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets act so powerfully and efficiently in the relaxed intestinal wall. Sensitive tablets, which may be procured from any druggist—a dime worth will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person.

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blotches, Sallow Skin

(Messenger of Health)

Unusually eruptions, pimples, blotches, sallowness of skin, usually are due to a sluggish liver, a constipated bowels—and a polluted blood stream as a consequence. How foolish in such cases to resort to outward applications, which can never have natural, permanent results. If more people only knew it, it is a very simple remedy, to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as it is safe. It is called "repelebe" tablets, and is a long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and is so simple that one need not be deprived of its wonderful benefits.

"Sensational tablets"—that's the name—are entirely vegetable and there's no habit-forming ingredient. You need only take about a dime worth, and allowance at bedtime to realize there's nothing quite so good for the purpose. The action in the morning is so easy, so soothing, and instead of a weakening after-effect, you feel fully refreshed and invigorated. Sensational tablets are not only the most powerful remedy known for constipation and liver trouble, but offer the simplest, most sensible treatment for complexion difficulties of the character mentioned.

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

They say that the advent of the "sensational tablets" as a substitute for calomel has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It is a simple, safe, and effective remedy for those afflicted with chronic constipation, who were quick to recognize the advantages over calomel and the usual laxatives. Sensational tablets, aside from their efficacy, doubtless owe their success largely to a tendency to aid in bringing about natural functions—instead of forcing the "cathartic habit." Also, instead of forcing the membranous lining of the organs involved, they exert a healing influence. Instead of weakening, they add tone to the intestinal wall. And they act so easily and gently, they are of course preferred on this account to the violently acting purgatives. Their popularity is due to another reason—their simplicity. One need take only a few tablets each day, and one tablet upon retiring, to be convinced that the ideal remedy for constipation, liver trouble, and the many evils which constipation has usually been found—Druggists Review.

LADIES! LOOK YOUNG,
DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur
Recipe and nobody can tell.
Brush it through hair.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantage of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold. Don't say gray! Look young! Either prepare the tonic at home or get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of "Witch's Sage and Sulphur Compound." Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully and removes dandruff, stops scalp itching and falling hair; besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger.

MAYOR SAYS HE WILL OPPOSE OPENING OF 'MOVIES' ON SUNDAY

In reply to a request from F. M. Burdick, recording secretary of Central Labor Council, as to his attitude on allowing motion pictures to operate on Sunday, Mayor Adam Frick Wednesday announced that he was absolutely opposed to such a movement. Central Labor Council at a meeting Monday night passed a resolution favoring the operation of motion picture shows on Sunday in this city.

According to Mr. Burdick, after a consultation with the mayor Tuesday afternoon, and believing that the mayor would permit the operation of shows, providing a majority of the voters of the city favored it, petitions were circulated about the city for voters to sign. By Wednesday morning Mr. Burdick stated that they had many signatures.

The mayor's reply to the communication from Central Labor Council is as follows:

August 16, 1915.
The Central Labor Council,
Mr. F. M. Burdick, Rec. Sec.
Portsmouth, Ohio.

My Dear Sir:
I have the honor to acknowledge receipt under date the sixteenth instant the following:

"Portsmouth, Ohio, Aug. 15, '15.
Hon. Adam Frick, Mayor of the City of Portsmouth.
"Esteemed Mayor:

"At a meeting of Central Labor Council held this date the following resolution was unanimously endorsed and adopted, and we sincerely hope that you will give it your attention and support.
"A resolution to allow picture theatres open on Sundays.
"Whereas, the working men of the City of Portsmouth, who work six days a week have no place of amusement to spend their Sundays in the city, compelling them to leave the city for amusement; they may wish, thereby taking considerable money out of the city to be spent elsewhere, and
"Whereas, the City of Portsmouth is the largest city in the state of Ohio in which motion picture theatres are closed, leaving no place of amusement open and compelling many people to leave the city, taking with them money that would be spent in Portsmouth.

"Therefore, be it resolved by Central Labor Council, that we use all our influence with our Honorable Mayor to persuade him to allow picture theatres open in Portsmouth between the hours of 12 noon and 6 p. m., and from 8 p. m. to 10 p. m., thus not interfering with the hours of devotional services.
"Very truly yours,
"F. M. BURDICK,
"Sec. C. L. C."

To which I indulge the pleasure of submitting as my official reply the following:

It is well at all times to view with favor every resolution that may have received the approval of the members of such an association of men as compose the Central Labor Council of this or any other city. This because they have in mind such problems that have to do with making it possible to secure for themselves and their families the necessities of life in greater abundance without increased strain upon their physical or their mental faculties, and for all of which I have the most profound regard and fully believe that the resources of the human unit in their relative importance should be more carefully husbanded than are the resources of the earth, its contents or its production.

I shall, however, not lose sight of the fact that in my sympathy for that great mass of citizens who are at this time crying need of bread, more warmth for their bodies and greater comfort for their souls, who are daily losing their independence as a part of the industrial life of our nation, that they need no further entertainments that may add to or be a part of their current daily expenses. This as set out in my resolution, I regard as neither necessary nor expedient.

Picture shows and their productions, now necessary to undergo censor before a bureau maintained by the state that they may be confined within certain moral restrictions prior to presenting such before the public six days in the week, would not, I am quite certain, add polish or refinement to ourselves as a people if presented on Sunday. It cannot, it seems to me, be said at this time, that those who now desire, cannot, under present working schedules, have ample time in which to view these pictures during working days or of such evenings, and, thereby should at least, as far as they are able to give of their earnings, satisfy their ambition or their needs before the picture world.

Because I am opposed to commercializing any class of entertainment or business on Sunday and believing that picture shows neither add to our social conditions or our general welfare as a city, I have no hesitancy in declining at this time, neither will I at any future time, grant your request to permit picture shows to operate any part of any Sunday.

I have taken quite liberally of your time in presenting my views this I have done by way of advising you fully that hereafter I may answer all similar requests in either the affirmative or the negative by "YES" or "NO". Believing that the great mass of citizens whom, at this time, I have the honor to represent know full well my attitude upon all public questions and are likewise conversant with the principles that I represent. Therefore, it will be entirely unnecessary for me to take either of your or my time in presenting certain matters of fact that are so well known.

So long as I may be entrusted with the duty and care of promoting the best interests of the citizens of your city my conscience shall be my guide which I shall keep wholly free from the attitude that any other citizen or candidate may assume with respect similar questions. Your petition, if presented, will be reviewed at my convenience, this in response to your wish that I gain the expression of our citizens on the question presented but shall not in any way prejudice or induce me to yield in my attitude toward compromising as to hours or the use of any part or any Sunday for the entertainment mentioned in your resolution, or for any similar purpose.

Respectfully submitted,
ADAM FRICK, Mayor.

DRESS WARM AND KEEP FEET DRY

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Take Salts and Get Rid of Uric Acid.

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most agonizing of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat less meat, less as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and, above all, drink plenty of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first fringe of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

A Logical and Sure Dyspepsia Treatment

During the past two or three years reports have frequently appeared in the Press concerning the remarkable value of bisurated magnesia as an antacid; and its ability to promote normal, healthy digestion by preventing food fermentation and neutralizing dangerous stomach acid has often been demonstrated. Until recently druggists could supply bisurated magnesia in powder form only, from one or two teaspoonfuls of which, taken in a little water after meals, almost instantly stops all fermentation and neutralizes acid, but sufferers from stomach trouble can now obtain a 5 grain tablet which combines all the valuable antacid properties of the ordinary bisurated magnesia in a very convenient form. This new tablet of bisurated magnesia can now be had of The Fisher & Streich Pharmacy and all druggists everywhere and many physicians are already prescribing them instead of the powder form.

In a matter of a little dispute over the right of way on Second street between White Wing John Henderson and Hillock street car No. 301, in charge of Motorman E. A. He was knocked down and bruised about the body and received an ugly scalp wound in the back of his head which required several stitches to close.

Henderson was removed from the scene of the accident on Second street, just below the city offices, to the mayor's office and thence in Lynn's ambulance to the Hempstead hospital, where Drs. O. W. Robe and W. D. Schaefer treated him. Henderson was able to leave the hospital Wednesday.

Pitcher Found The Plate Going Round, Hanna Was Pounded

WERE Pitcher John Ferguson the advance man for "Uncle Tom's Cabin," and he struck his old home town he would not issue any more passes than he did in the Portsmouth-Lexington game staged in picturesque Millbrook Tuesday afternoon.

Unable to locate the rubber that the ambitious players like to tap so well with their spiked hoofs, the tall Tennessee banded out 13 transportation pastboards to first and despite his remarkable spasm of liberality he won his game and by a lopsided score, the final being 8 to 2. Yes, base ball continues to be the giddy old game. Just as uncertain at times as an old maid's disposition.

Ferguson for a starter walked three men in the opening frame yet he was not scored on. Providence was with him. In other innings he just seemed to delight in loading up the sacks and then with cell-like precision he would wiggle himself out of ticklish situations with apparent ease. In many ways the game was one of the oddest ever clipped off at the local yard, remarkable for three things, the meagre crowd that was on hand, Ferguson's unheard of liberality and the hard hitting of the Spencer clan, Hanna getting a warm reception. He was touched up for sixteen hits good for 19 bases.

Portsmouth broke into the run column in the second inning when Caton laced a double past Guy in left and McHenry followed with a center field shot. Three more were added in the fourth on hits by Johnson, Caton's sacrifice, singles by Jacobus and Bush, Deveraux's error at first and Dilly's safe rap.

Hits by Sherman, Johnson and Jacobus scored another one in the fifth. A pair of runs were scored in the seventh on four clean hits garnered by Dilly, Johnson, Caton and McHenry and McClelland's error.

The last Portsmouth tally came in the ninth on a pass to Bush, Dilly's hit and Dilly's sacrifice fly.

Lexington scored its first run in the third on a pass to Wright and Deveraux's two sacks to left. The last goal tally came in the ninth and the combination that produced was like this: Jack Guy scored to left, Blackwell drew his fourth walk, Thomas singled to center and Cain walked. McClelland rapped one to left and Blackwell scored, but Thomas was run down between third and home and was finally lagged by Johnson. Wright contributed the first out through the wild route. Gee, but this was a dizzy one. The score:

Beers Crew Slipping

It begins to look like the Charleston team has shot its wad, cracked, integrated as it were as the Beers crew were again whaled Tuesday by the Old Taylors, who are breezing along like a high powered machine on an appalled boulevard. One or two more trouncings and the Senators will drop out of the first division.

It Was "Bingle Day"

Seven players on the local team split 14 blows Tuesday, which is a rather remarkable occurrence. They were Dillhoefer, Dills, Sherman, Caton, McHenry, Bush and Jacobus. Johnson rammed out three hits and led his teammates with the stick. There was not a doubtful bingle among the harvest of swats as most of them rang off the willow with sweet resonance.

To Unfurl Pennant At Park Opening

Boston, Aug. 18.—Braves Field, the greatest baseball park in the country was opened today as the new home grounds of the Boston club of the National League.

The pennant won in the world's series with the Athletics last year was to be unfurled. It was to mark the dedication of the grounds. President Gaffney said today, to the 1014 team whose sensational transition from fall orders to world leaders within three months caused the club to outgrow at a bound the little band box park at Walpole street which had been its home for 40 years.

President John K. Tener and all the club owners of the National League came here to attend the opening ceremonies. It was expected the fair weather would bring out an army of fans which would closely approach if it did not break all previous records for attendance at a baseball game. Indications were that the 43,250 seats would be largely taken.

A FEW PICKUPS AND GROUNDERS

The hitting of the home team was hard and consistent. Too bad there were not more fans out to enjoy it.

Ferguson had his usual speed and a lot of stuff on the ball but could not get it over no matter how hard he tried. But he turned in a winner, his first one for some time.

Lexington will show here for the last time Thursday. Better get out and see the scrappy folks in action.

Howard Guy, who pitched the eighth inning against Portsmouth Tuesday formerly pitched in the Texas league. The fans sat after Guy yesterday, but kidding just rolls off his back.

Johnson's hitting these days is good to look at. The big fellow is hitting them hard and right on the nose.

Little Joe Bush slashed out a pair of hits and they were line smashes to left.

Team Watches Gate To Be Sure of Salary

Decatur (Ill.) Three Eye league players now are doing the stunt commonly captioned as the sole property of transforming actors—watching the gate.

Decatur, which was to have dropped from the league but did not, is in arrears for salaries. Now one or two of the team members are delegated to count heads at the gate to be sure payments are kept up in relation to the proceeds.

So Long Chief

Manager McGraw is going to ask waivers on Catcher Meyers. It is said he is about ready to go back to the minors. Just a short time ago Meyers was recognized as one of the stars of the game.

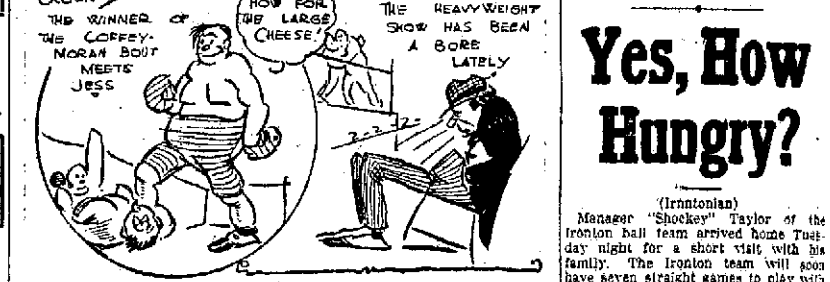

In Fourth Place

Portsmouth went ahead of Lexington by winning Tuesday's game and the Senators are in position to rush to the front should Mayville or Frankfort wobble a little. The team is hitting hard and fielding sharply and it will soon be right up there.

New Record In Passing Hung Up At Millbrook By Ferguson

Ferguson in Tuesday's battle with Lexington was truly a living example of the "Wild Man From Bonaire." He established a new league record for passing passes when he walked it yesterday. He walked three in the first inning. Cain, Wright and Brown, two in the second Blackwell and Hanna, Wright in the third, Blackwell in the fourth, Homer Cain in the fifth, none in the sixth, Cain, McClelland and Blackwell in the seventh, none in the 8th, two in the 9th, Cain, Blackwell. The latter was not credited with a time at bat as he drew four walks. Cain drew four. Ferguson tried to aim the ball at the plate but the pesky little fellow just simply refused to behave. When a team draws 13 walks and makes four hits, which is the same as making 17 blows and only scores two runs something is radically wrong with its scoring machine.

Of course, three double plays lifted Ferguson off this loc, but when the real crisis always presented itself he usually got the ball over and the best the Colts could do in one of the freak games of the season was to score a pair of tallies off 13 passes and 4 hits.

The winner of the Jim Coffey-Frank Moran bout, soon to be staged in Gotham, will challenge Jesse Willard for the title, and it seems that Jess will be obliged to give him a try. Fans are beginning to clamor for a bit of action in the heavy class. Jess has done little or nothing since he won his crown. Sooner or later we must know whether he is every inch a king.

Waivers Are Asked On Rube Marquard

Rube Marquard, famous pitcher of the New York Giants, may go to the minors as the pitcher for whom the Reds were bidding last winter has been going very poorly for New York and McGraw has asked for waivers on him.

Marquard, a native of Cleveland, has been a member of the Giants since September, 1908. It was not until 1914, however, that he really made good for the New York team. He started that season and the two following campaigns, but slumped in 1914, and has not been of much value this year.

ARE BETTING EVEN MONEY

Over in Brooklyn the fans are betting even money that the Trolley Dodgers will beat out the Phillies. If they turn this trick they will be pretty sure to win the National League flag.

BAD DAY FOR HANNA

Mark Hanna, pitching for Lexington will always have occasion to remember Tuesday August 17 as on this day he received one sweet drubbing in Millbrook at the hands of the Spencer crew. Hanna seemed to have his usual stuff, but Portsmouth was not to be denied its hits and Hanna had to suffer. His offerings were lambasted to all corners of the lot.

Where They Come From

Mike Gibbons, the St. Paul phantom, started work as a plumber's assistant; then he worked in a railroad shop. In friendly bouts with boys he showed cleverness with the gloves and took up boxing as a business.

Now Mike owns his own home, a beautiful bungalow, on the outskirts of St. Paul. He bought it with money earned in the ring. Mike dabbles in real estate with ring money. He has just been guaranteed $15,000 for a bout with Backy McFarland.

ONLY HANDFUL SAW GAME

This is the smallest crowd I ever saw at a ball game," said President William Gableman as he sized up the handful at the park Tuesday. "Way we would actually draw more people in some villages than we are here, but I guess it is an off year all round. That's all there is to it."

Hubert Test is some coacher. He is the best little goat-getter in the East. He rode Hanna so hard yesterday that the Lexington heavier did not know whether he was pitching or making a high dive into a cement vat. They exchanged pretty warm words at times and the fans enjoyed their verbal tilts.

Manager "Shockey" Taylor of the Ironton ball team arrived home Tuesday night for a short visit with his family. The Ironton team will soon have seven straight games to play with Charleston and is trying to have three of them transferred to this city. This would be a very good idea, as the fans are hungry for a game.

Why They "Laffed"

"That guy must have been in the woods a long time" yelled a fan at Pitcher Ferguson Tuesday when he insisted on walking about every man who faced him.

"What makes you think Fergy, old boy, has been in the woods?" asked another interested fan.

"Why because he is so wild." And everybody "laffed."

Omar Crawford, who is living on his farm near Peebles, was a business visitor to the city Tuesday. He will take the road September 1st, for the Griffin Clothing Company, of Baltimore, whom he represented for several years.

LUCASVILLE FAIR OPE IS WITH A BIG RUSH

Exhibits Placed; Shows Open; Races Every Afternoon

The Scioto County Fair at Lucasville started off with a rush Wednesday morning, directors reporting that the attendance was greater than they had expected in the forenoon. The crowd increased as the day progressed. Many people went from Portsmouth in automobiles.

Clyde Brant, in charge of the Art Hall, stated Wednesday morning that the Art Hall was running over with exhibits, and that he was having trouble finding room for them all. He said that the exhibits this year exceeded those of former years by a wide margin.

The same condition exists in the stock department, where difficulty is experienced in finding suitable room for the large number of fine specimens of horses, cattle, sheep, hogs and poultry are entered.

Many interesting shows on ground.

Plenty of attractions opened up on the grounds this morning, including the merry-go-round, the Rector's show, and others. Free exhibitions of bag punching, lariet throwing, fancy shooting and tight wire walking given this afternoon between

FINEST PEACHES IN COUNTRY ARE GROWN AT PLEASANT RIDGE; MANY SOLD HERE

What rain and sunshine will do, coupled with industry and scientific care, can be seen at the Pleasant Ridge Peach Farm, located one mile east of Wakefield and owned by W. W. Tibbals.

Several years ago, this tract of land that is now dotted with almost 11,000 peach trees, was a barren waste in so far as producing was concerned. It had grown up with rag weeds and thistles, and did not produce enough to sustain the life of a milk cow. Mr. Tibbals, who is a coal dealer of Toledo, learned the place was for sale and he purchased the 75 acres for a song, almost, paying less than $4.50 per acre. The tract was cleared and plowed, and more than 10,000 peach trees were set out in long rows. As these trees began to grow, some would show a poor growth. These were uprooted and thrown into the fire, and others planted in their place.

Within two years, Mr. Tibbals, who had placed Mr. Carl, a scientific horticulturist in charge, had a young orchard of promising trees.

This year has seen the fulfillment of Mr. Tibbals' dream. Every tree, strong and healthy, well trimmed and thrifty, was loaded down with luscious fruit. Some of the trees bearing as high as eight bushels. In all Mr. Tibbals expects to gather not less than 20,000 bushels, and in order to dispose of many of them he has opened a wholesale and retail peach store at Gallia and Sinton streets, where Carey Freshout has been placed in charge.

Times Man Visits Orchard

A Times representative visited this wonderful peach farm, Tuesday afternoon, making the trip in a touring car. Outside of a stretch of one mile, the Chillicothe Pike is in a splendid shape.

Wakefield reached, take the road to the right. About a couple of hundred yards from Wakefield the road forks. Antis to the right, the road to the right, which carries you direct into the big orchard. Why, you are in the very heart of the Pleasant Ridge Peach Farm before you know it.

On every hand and as far as eyes can see, you behold nothing but peach trees, laden down to the ground with the luscious fruit. Upwards of twenty-five men are engaged in gathering the fruit. Care must be exercised in picking the fruit. The ripe fruit has first call, and if a man picks fruit too green he is given a call down right then and there. The men pick by numbers, their baskets being numbered accordingly. Hence close tab can be kept on the pickers. Because three men persisted in gathering unripe fruit they were paid off Tuesday and forced to hunt other work.

1285 Bushels Of Peaches Picked

That there is plenty of fruit can be appreciated by the fact that 1285 bushels were picked on Monday. An ordinary day's work consists of 80 bushels, although Mr. Tibbals has several men in his employ who can and who do gather 100 bushels. The Times man was given a basket and with the assistance of Mr. Tibbals, picked two bushels of peaches from one small tree in

TRAIN PASSES OVER 2 CHILDREN; THEY LIVE

Two children, Elizabeth and Mary Whalen, thrown beneath a train composed of a shifter engine and empty cars, after having the entire train pass above their bodies, lived to tell of their experience. Providence so directed their fall as to snatch them from the clutch of death and keep them from sustaining even serious injury. Other members of the same party who figured in an accident in Sycamore, Mo., near Matewan, W. Va., were taken to a hospital on a special train.

Mrs. Mullins, three children, Elizabeth, Mary and Maude Whalen, Charles Coburn and Jno. Yeager were coming out of Sycamore Hollow, near Matewan, W. Va., from the Sycamore mines to meet N. & W. train No. 8. They were riding on a truck used in hauling goods from the main line to the mines, a distance of about two miles. On a steep grade coming around a heavy curve the party on the truck met a shifter pushing a train of empties. Every member of the party was thrown off the truck, but none was killed. Mrs. Mullins was the most seriously hurt.

Says Wife Is In Love With Tall, Dark Man

Cincinnati, Ohio, Aug. 18.—Up on the allegation that she admitted to him that she has been in love with a "tall, dark man" for the past three years and that she, therefore, could not be true to him, William C. Timmes, a tailor at 925 Walnut street, is demanding a divorce from Belle Timmes, to whom he was married at Jackson, Ohio, November 26, 1907.

Timmes says that his wife who has neglected his home and has continually "proved" herself for having married him, saying that her only reason for so doing was in order to get away from a small town and have a home in a large city. For the past three years she has been continually looking for "trouble," Timmes says, and has repeatedly accused him of intimacy with his employees. Timmes lives at 4210 Thirty-second street, Oakley, and he asks that he be granted a divorce and that the court make a "fair and equitable" division of their property. The wife is now living at 3118 Jefferson avenue. C. S. Sparks, attorney.

MET FRIEND AT JACKSON

Editor Williams says in his "Day By Day" column in the Jackson Standard-Journal of August 9th: "I met D. C. Jenkins, of Portsmouth, on the street. Persons, who is an uncle of Mesdames Jenkins and Stewart, was a guest at the same time.

"Jenkins and I went to school together in the Shumate district from 1850 to 1870, and he and W. W. Williams, now of Columbus, were 'buddies' and usually got the best of us smaller boys, such as John Johnson, E. J. Williams, T. J. Davis and me. T. J. Harrison was our last teacher together."

Lime Starvation Causes Tuberculosis

The Medical Record (New York) of December 18, 1909, contains an article on "The Treatment of Pulmonary Tuberculosis Based on the Assumption That the Dietetic Cause of the Disease is Lime Starvation," by Dr. John P. Russell, who says: "The condition which is recognized as preceding the active development of tuberculosis in the adult may be considered as due to lime starvation."

"Among inorganic substances lime salts appear to be of special physiological importance."

"Years of widespread use confirm us in the belief that the success of Eckman's Alternative in cases of pulmonary tuberculosis (consumption) and chronic throat and bronchial troubles is due in large measure to its content of lime, so combined with other ingredients as to be easily assimilated by the cells."

"Doctors who have had much to do with the results obtained in many cases of these affections, which appear to have yielded to Eckman's Alternative."

"As it contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, it is safe to try. Your druggist will order it for you or you can send direct. Eckman's Laboratory, Philadelphia."

DRESS UP, MEN!

In Made-to-Measure Clothes

For the past 25 years we have been making many men of Portsmouth and vicinity their tailor-made clothes—the men who care, and the men of disservice—men, by the way, who know what's what in the clothes question. Our business method of giving the people better clothes—clothes that are snappy, clothes that have the necessary individuality—has been appreciated, for try as we have we can not recall a single dissatisfied customer. Our clothes have stood the test—they have measured up to the exactness that we demand shall stamp every suit that leaves our store.

And each year finds more men having their suits tailored to their individual measure. Men dislike wearing clothes made to fit a dummy. And they also dislike to run into every Tom, Dick and Harry whom they find wearing exact duplicates of their suits. We never duplicate on patterns—hence your suit is there all by itself. And that is worth a whole lot to you.

That we build suits right—that we employ skilled mechanics—that our suits live up to their guarantee—is shown by the fact that our business is on the increase, keeping pace with time. And we contend with some pride that we give as fine fabrics, as skilled work, as good fit, as high-class trimmings as the expert tailors of large cities, and yet, our price is much lower—you save the difference and at the same time you buy at home and patronize home industry. There is no reason at all why you should have your clothes made in the larger cities—not so long as we are in the tailoring business.

Your shape never worries us, for we are here to build clothes to fit each individual measurement. That's the reason we employ only high-class tailors—that's one reason why we take such extreme care in making our suits. Our reputation for carrying the most select line of woollens will be maintained in the future as it has been in the past. Right now we are showing the swiftest line of fall woollens for suits and overcoats that were ever displayed in Portsmouth. And you will be surprised at the reasonable price we ask. We want to say right here that we exercise the same care in the lower priced suits and overcoats as we do in the more expensive kind. We are ever mindful of the interest of our patrons—they must be pleased as well as ourselves.

You may think that fall is a long ways off, but it isn't. Now is the time to make your selection—have your suit or overcoat built now. Get busy! They will then be ready at your first call. The time is NOW—the place is at the South-west corner of Fourth and Chillicothe streets, and the store is

INVITE GOV. FRANK B. WILLIS TO BRIDGE DEDICATION

OHIO'S FIRST CITIZEN MAY COME TO CITY DURING KORN KARNIVAL

Governor Frank B. Willis and Clifton Cowan, superintendent of the state highway department, will be invited by the directors of the Business Men's Association to deliver addresses at the dedication of the new Scioto river bridge on Wednesday, October 6th, the first day of the Korn Karnival. Announcement to this effect was made by President Charles Daehler, Wednesday.

Full details of the exercises will be worked out at the next meeting of the directors, one week from next Monday. From the interest manifested, it is apparent that the dedication of the bridge will be the main event of opening day, and will make it as big a day in point of interest as the succeeding days.

The presence of Ohio's governor and its superintendent of the highway department will tend to make the attendance on Wednesday as large as the other days, while the big features of the last three days will be of sufficient drawing power to keep the attendance on the increase until the last day.

On that day, the old West End, the scene of Portsmouth's pioneer days, will come into its own. Its own population and visiting hundreds will trample the streets trod daily by the forebears of the present generation. It was in that section of the city that the business and industrial life of a half-century and less ago evolved. In the old river days, that territory between Market street and the river was one of the busiest spots on the Ohio river between Cincinnati and Portsmouth. It will be just like commemorating the deeds and activities of the men who made the present city possible.

That same section today represents a portion of an avenue of trade that leads into the richest agricultural communities of the county. The new bridge will be the connecting link between the city proper and the prosperous West Side. It is fitting that some recognition be made of the completion of the bridge, which was built to withstand the ravages of future floods and the elements. No better time could have been chosen than during the Korn Karnival, which unless the signs are wrong, will usher in a new era of business prosperity for Portsmouth and its continuous territory.

It is hoped that Governor Willis' official duties will enable him to accept the invitation, and thus contribute to the success of Portsmouth's Korn Karnival. As head of the highway department, Mr. Cowan would doubtless experience a feeling of satisfaction as he would look out upon the new township road, which the state and county officials hope will be a lasting monument to the good roads movement. Their combined presence would add dignity and honor to an inspiring event.

Merchant princes and more than 2,000 penny merchants will unite in testifying to their respect by marching to the cemetery. More than a thousand pennies have contributed their pennies to buy a band offering.

Portsmouth Bills To Meet Tonight

Hello Bill! There are a lot of Bills in this man's town, long, lean, short and thick Bills, and they are urged to attend a meeting of all Bills in the city tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the headquarters of the Retail Merchants' association in the Masonic Temple.

The work of looking after the Bill parade, which is to be made a big feature of this year's Korn Karnival, will be taken up. Will H. Burt, of the Criterion Clothing company, is chairman of the Bill parade, and he is anxious to have this pageant exceed the famous John Parade of last year.

Do not wait for an invitation to attend this meeting. If the handle of your name is Bill just stick your old bill in at this meeting. Remember the time is 7:30 tonight and the place is the Retail Merchants' headquarters in the Masonic temple. Be there and start the Bill parade movement off with fireworks.

The Korn Karnival Pennants Arrive

Are you going to the Lucasville Fair Thursday in your automobile? Of course you are.

Well then drop around to the Retail Merchants' Association headquarters in the Masonic Temple and get pennants for your machine. The Korn Karnival pennants, many hundreds of them arrived today, and they should be floating breezily from your car tomorrow. It will be a great chance for all auto owners to boost the Kornival. The pennants are a thing of real beauty. Finished in a shimmering green, they are set off with "Korn Karnival, Portsmouth, O., October 6, 7, 8 and 9 in gold letters. The design is of an unusually attractive nature and Secretary Maurice Coe stated today that he would be at his office Thursday morning to hand out pennants just as long as machine owners called for them.

Furniture Company Starts New Addition

room on the ground floor," said James Distel, manager of the Distel Furniture company today. "This room will lead to the new addition, and it will have two immense arches leading to it. All of the space is to be used for display purposes."

The addition will be two stories in height and will be ready for occupancy in seven or eight weeks.

HUNDREDS DIE IN GALVESTON?

MANY DIE IN HOUSTON AND OTHER CITIES

THOUSANDS OF BUILDINGS DESTROYED IN GALVESTON; LOSS EXCEEDS 1900 FLOOD

Houston, Texas, Aug. 18 (via Temple, telephoned to Dallas)--The Houston Chronicle prints the following interview with J. R. Montgomery, a Houston correspondent of the Galveston News who got as far as Virginia Point, the north end of the causeway, Wednesday and viewed the wrecked city of Galveston.

"I am confident the number of dead in Galveston is large. I could not see an elevator on the port side of the city and my opinion is that the number of buildings destroyed will run into the thousands.

"I believe the property loss will be greater than that of 1900."

Montgomery made his way to the drawbridge of the Galveston causeway and owing to the fact that this structure was swept away he was forced to return to Houston. The man made the trip in an automobile.

"We encountered indescribable conditions," he said. "The road bridges at Clear Creek and Dickinson were washed out and we ran our automobile over the railroad bridge and across the ties.

"We saw thousands of bales of cotton on the prairies all the way from Virginia Point (the mainland end of the Galveston causeway) to the town of Lamarque, far inland. These were washed from Galveston docks.

"The water must have been several feet over the causeway and serious damage must have been caused by it by the washing out of large quantities of fillings in the center."

The Chronicle also reported it had word that fifty persons were dead at Texas City, but accounts for only twelve soldiers perished when the Thompson building at Texas City collapsed. It is said there were all private soldiers no commanding officers having lost their lives. The railroad drawbridge has been washed away at Seabrook about 20 miles from Houston. Three persons are reported to have lost their lives at that point.

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 18.--More than three scores of lives were lost and property damage estimated at millions of dollars was caused by the great tropical storm which swept the Gulf coast of Texas yesterday and the day before according to information that today trickled through the veil that has surrounded the stricken district because of broken wire communication. Houston, Galveston and Beaumont remained practically cut off from the outside world, but wire companies expected to be able to communicate with all three places before night. Although rain was still falling in some districts the wind had lessened in velocity.

Copies of yesterday's Houston newspapers received today told of the deaths of twelve soldiers and thirty or forty civilians at Texas City and said six persons were drowned at a Port, 25 miles south-east of Houston.

Eight men were reported dead near Morgan's Point.

Military rule, according to the Houston Chronicle of yesterday, has been established at Texas City and soldiers are taking bodies from the water as fast as they can be located.

Disappointingly brief wireless reports received from the army transport Buford by the station in Port San Houston at San Antonio have only the most meagre reports of conditions at Galveston. No mention was made of loss of life, but a report of demolished buildings along the water front left the inference in the minds of many that deaths had resulted.

Reports from Houston brought by trainmen late last night told of two or three persons killed although other reports declared there was no loss of life.

A like situation obtained in the matter of probable damage at Houston. Conflicting reports as to damage to property in Houston were received. Some placed it at $1,000,000; some at $5,000,000.

All reports early today indicated that the force of the tropical storm had been spent.

Most places in the storm district with which it was possible to communicate reported a falling of the wind.

State officials announced they were prepared to take the situation in hand and promptly extend help where required.

"More than 400 cannon were taken. The fortress was captured by storm in spite of the most tenacious resistance by the Russians."

WILL INVESTIGATE LYNCHING OF FRANK

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 18--With the arrival today of Governor Harris from Fitzgerald, Ga., where he delivered an address yesterday, it was expected definite steps would be taken for the investigation of the lynching of Leo M. Frank. The statement made by the chairman of the state prison commission, last night, that he did not believe any one could be blamed for conditions which made it comparatively easy for the mob to take Frank from the prison seemed to indicate that the prison feature might not be investigated immediately. The commission has absolute authority in such matters.

The mob had planned the work so carefully and acted so quickly that little excitement was caused at Milledgeville. Marietta rapidly assumed its normal poise after Frank's body had been cut down from a tree near the town and brought to Atlanta. Here immediate interest in the case ended, when the body, accompanied by Mrs. Frank and a few friends, last midnight was started on its way to Brooklyn, the home of Frank's parents.

At Fitzgerald yesterday, Governor Harris was instituting a thorough investigation. He ordered his office to inform the sheriff of Cobb county, in which Marietta is situated, that he would expect him to make a detailed inquiry into the lynching. The Cobb county commissioners had a special meeting yesterday at which they authorized Coroner John A. Booth to employ extra counsel in his work on the case.

A coroner's jury empanelled yesterday heard only two witnesses. By the time the identity of the body was established. The jury adjourned until next Tuesday.

Allied Forces Gain Five Hundred Yards

London, Aug. 18--A further advance of five hundred yards by the Allied troops on the Gallipoli peninsula is announced in a report from General Ian Hamilton, the British expeditionary commander-in-chief, given out here today. The statement follows:

"Sir Ian Hamilton reports that in the Southern zone the situation was unchanged during the 14th and 15th. The Turks kept up the usual artillery fire without much effect.

"In the Northern zone the right flank of the Australian and New Zealand army corps position was heavily attacked during the night of the 14th-15th, but all attacks were repulsed. At Suvla the troops on the left flank made a short advance on the afternoon of the fifteenth, with a view to straightening out the line. They moved forward under considerable gun and rifle fire and gained about five hundred yards, capturing a Turkish trench and taking two officers and twenty prisoners."

MANY LOST IN OTHER TEXAS COAST TOWNS

Waco, Texas, Aug. 18.--A copy of the sixth edition of the Houston Chronicle of Tuesday says:

"Twelve soldiers were killed in last night's storm when the Thompson building, a new three story structure, collapsed. Eight were killed by falling brick, while four were drowned later. About 30 or 40 civilians, many of them women and children, lost their lives."

Those killed were enlisted men and no commanding officers lost their lives.

Military rule has been established at Texas City and the soldiers are fishing corpses out of the water as fast as they can be located. The first runner to reach Houston was that between 200 and 250 soldiers were drowned but this report was denied by A. H. Doty and I. J. Moran who reached Houston late Tuesday afternoon, making a trip to Texas City in an automobile on the railroad track. They said only twelve soldiers lost their lives and perhaps thrice as many were injured.

San Antonio, Texas, Aug. 18.--A copy of the Houston Chronicle issued at 3:30 Tuesday afternoon received here estimates the storm damage in that city at about $1,000,000. No mention is made of loss of life in Houston but it is stated six persons were drowned at La Porte, southeast of Houston of Trinity Bay.

Morgan's Point, Texas, Aug. 18.--Eight men are reported dead near this point. They were drowned while fishing. Reports reached here from an authentic source that the bodies of a woman, a baby and a sailor had beached near Sylvan Beach. They were unidentified and apparently floated from some place on the bay.

Austin, Texas, Aug. 18.--The midnight edition of the Houston Post says:

"Texas City has sustained a hard blow as a result of the hurricane which swept the Gulf coast, an approximate damage of $400,000 being done there, but only 18 lives were lost. Information to this effect was brought to Houston Tuesday night by E. V. Rhodes, superintendent of terminals for the Texas City company, who left Texas City at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and was relayed by four automobiles.

Dallas, Texas, Aug. 18.--Definite news from Galveston, Houston, Beaumont, three isolated South Texas cities, still was lacking early today, but the high winds which have been blowing over that part of Texas between the Gulf and Dallas, and which have probably caused thousands of dollars damage to cotton and corn crops and to small buildings, apparently were dying down. Heavy rains still were falling, but in the vicinity of Waco and Dallas the wind had subsided to a breeze.

It is generally believed all danger now has passed. The work of rehabilitation will begin immediately.

Telegraph and telephone officers stated early today that while they had not been in direct communication with their forces working to re-establish wire communication with Houston, Galveston and Beaumont, their plans were to have at least a few wires working into these cities by noon.

Latest advices from Houston, brought to Dallas and Temple by railroad trainmen were somewhat contradictory. One reported the property damage there extended only to broken plate glass windows, and there had been no reports of loss of life; while the other stated the property loss was enormous, probably $5,000,000 and several lives had been lost. Not a word had been heard from Beaumont since Monday night. Brief wireless messages from Galveston indicated the storm was subsiding there and reported great damage to shipping and structures on the bay front. There was no confirmation of loss of life.

A wireless message received late yesterday by Fort Houston, at San Antonio, told of the army transport McClellan being left high and dry half a mile inland. The tug Waverly of the Gulf Steamship Company, which had been towing the lost barge No. 1, containing 15,000 barrels of oil, arrived at Corpus Christi late last night. She had battled for 36 hours with the storm in the Gulf of Mexico and put into port in a battered condition. It was believed the aggregate damage to craft would be heavy.

With the sweeping of the storm inland the greatest damage seemed to be in the coastal plains country about Port Lavaca, a hundred miles west of Galveston. In this section a district of fruit and truck farming, much damage was reported. Fear was held for the lives of the people in the district, as the character of the country is such as to afford full sweep to the wind.

FERGUSON NOT SUPERSTITIOUS; WALKS 13 MEN; WINS

Pitcher Found The Plate Going Round, Hanna Was Pounded

WERE Pitcher John Ferguson the advance man for "Ueule Tom's Cabin," and he struck his old home town he would not issue any more passes than he did in the Portsmouth-Lexington game staged in picturesque Millbrook Tuesday afternoon.

Unable to locate the rubber that the ambitious players like to tap so well with their spiked hoofs, the tall Tennessee handed out 13 transportation pasteboards to first and despite his remarkable spasm of liberality he won his game and by a lopsided score, the final being 8 to 2. Yes, base ball continues to be the giddy old game. Just as uncertain at times as an old maid's disposition.

Ferguson for a starter walked three men in the opening frame yet he was not scared. Providence was with him. In other innings he just seemed to delight in loading up the sacks and then with cat-like precision he would wiggle himself out of ticklish situations with apparent ease. In many ways the game was one of the oddest ever clipped off at the local yard, remarkable for three things, the meagre crowd that was on hand, Ferguson's unheard of liberality and the hard hitting of the Spencer clan, Hanna getting a warm reception. He was touched up for sixteen hits good for 19 bases.

Portsmouth broke into the run column in the second inning when Caton laced a double past Guyon in left and McHenry followed with a center field shot. Three more were added in the fourth on hits by Johnson, Caton's sacrifice, singles by Jacobus and Bush, McHenry's error at first and Dilly's safe run.

Hits by Shannon, Johnson and Jacobus scored another one in the fifth. A pair of runs were scored in the seventh on four clean hits, garnered by Dilly, Johnson, Caton and McHenry and McHenry's error.

The last Portsmouth tally came in the ninth on a pass to Dilly, Dilly's hit and Dilly's sacrifice fly.

Lexington scored its first run in the third on a pass to Dilly and Dilly's two sacks to left. The last Col. tally came in the ninth and the combination that produced was like this: Jack Guyon scored to left, Blackwell drew his fourth walk, Thomas singled to center and Caton walked. McClelland rapped one to left and Blackwell scored, but Thomas was run down between third and home and was finally tagged by Johnson. Wright contributed the final out through the white route. Gee, but this was a dizzy one. The score:

THE FRANK LYNCHING.

The state of Georgia today is on trial before a shamed and horror-stricken sisterhood of states. Upon the activity or non-activity of the authorities of that state in ferreting out and punishing the men who took Leo Frank from the state penitentiary and hanged him to a tree, depends whether or not the name of Georgia shall go down into history a by-word and a reproach to civilized communities. And even at that, it is doubtful if the proper punishment can erase the stain upon the fair name of Georgia caused by this wanton outrage. This man Frank had been convicted of the murder of a little girl upon the most questionable of circumstantial evidence. The best minds in the country, after careful review of the case came to the conclusion that there was not sufficient evidence to justify a death sentence. The governor of Georgia, after careful study, came to the same conclusion and commuted the death sentence to imprisonment for life. Then when Frank had been taken to the state penitentiary he was first assaulted and frightfully stabbed by another convict. Next came the crowning outrage, the attack upon the prison Monday night by a mob, the removal and subsequent lynching of Frank. It is a sad and shameful story, a story that breathes reproach upon the officials of Georgia at almost every step. What kind of a penitentiary have they in Georgia, what kind of cowardly officials have they at that prison, that a disorderly mob could work its will unopposed?

There ought to be a house cleaning in Georgia. The members of that mob should be run to earth and hanged; the officials of that penitentiary should be removed from office and if possible sent back there as convicts.

Georgia will see to this if respect for law and order exists in Georgia at all.

One of the things we cannot understand is why a city will spend a lot of money in laying a perfectly level brick paved street and then allow Tom, Dick and Harry to come along and dig up parts of it whenever their fancy dictates in order to lay gas mains or water mains or some other kind of mains. Why not issue word prior to paving a street that all connections must be made before the work is started and that after the paving is done the street cannot be torn up for say five years, for any purpose whatsoever.

On the brick part of the new Chillicothe Pike paving you run along as smooth as a parlor floor. On the concrete portion that has been opened you go along bumpety-bump. The brick portion was opened to travel ten days after the last brick was laid. The concrete portion lay for four or five weeks under a clay bank before it was opened to travel. Little things but some of the minor reasons why brick is the ideal paving material.

The voracious James Ball Naylor perpetrates to this effect in the Marion Star: The most economical housewife still lives, and in Ohio, of course. She buys little ice in the summer time, because it melts so fast, but in winter she takes huge hanks of it because it lasts so long.

As evidence of good faith, the Marion Star suggests the steel mills cut some of the profits out of the huge bills they are going to sell for that mammoth navy. The government is going to build. And it is in the Marion Star that we have 487 times, in the past twelve months, read that Democratic free trade had ruined the steel industry.

It is well enough for the triumphant remnants of the gang to hug the delusion of "the 500 Democrats who are going to vote against Frick," but, well, it would be of advantage, perhaps, to consider the Republicans to be found here and there that are going to vote against Knaps.

It isn't true "that a number of west side citizens, who are talking about enjoining the laying of traction rails on the Scioto bridge" are direct descendants of the fossils that are being dug out of the Hayman mound. They have no existence at all.

Contractor George White denies he said he would not finish the towpath until the new commissioners came in. It is not worth while to deny; it is perfectly plain he does not intend to finish it until then and then a right smart spell afterwards.

There are no 42 centimeter guns trained on York Place, but the boys in camp there are in grave danger nevertheless. The United Army of Flood Wall Belles is on parade and doing its best to demoralize the enemy.

"Extra Times, all about Leo Frank Lynching!" Didn't it make those of you who had been holding up your hands in horror at "German savagery in Belgium" and "Russian barbarism in East Prussia" hide your heads in shame?

We lay no claim to be one of the oldest inhabitants herself, but we do solemnly vouch that we can recall both a spring and summer, where quite frequently there were spells of dry weather, when it did not rain for as long as three days.

THE REAL VICTIM.

STEAMSHIP AND RAILWAY ACCIDENTS.

Accidents to passengers on railways are fewer in proportion to the number of travelers than on steamships, says the Railway Age Gazette in an article comparing railway and steamship accident statistics, suggested by the Eastland disaster.

"Accidents on the railways of the United States are too numerous, but when something suggests comparison between their accident record and the records of other classes of concerns in this country the record of the railways is seldom found to be so bad relatively as most people think. When the lake steamship Eastland turned over in the Chicago river recently about 1,000 passengers were drowned. Never in their history did all the railways of the United States together kill that many passengers in all ways in a year. In only two years of the last ten has the federal steamship inspection service compiled the statistics of steamship accidents so as to show separately the number of fatalities to passengers. These were 1906 and 1914. In 1906 American steamships carried 330,235,959 passengers, of whom 323 were killed in accidents, or 1 in 1,022,000. In the same year the railways carried 797,918,116 passengers, of whom 359 were killed, or 1 in 2,222,000. The railways killed less than one-half as many passengers in proportion as the steamships. In 1914 the steamships carried 318,994,317 passengers, of whom 105 were killed, or 1 in 3,029,000. In the same year the railways carried 1,053,138,718 passengers, of whom 265 were killed, or 1 in 3,978,000. Here, again, the railways were relatively the safer.

As fine apples as we have seen anywhere, unusually large, well shaped, excellent color and perfectly sound were brought to The Times office this week, by Dr. W. J. Keyes. They are a splendid illustration in the value of knowing how. Dr. Keyes is just dabbling in an orchard as a side line and to see what can be done in fruit culture hereabouts. The apples were grown by him from old trees, abandoned years ago. He treated those trees according to advanced methods in horticulture and the result is fruit as fine as anyone would wish to set his teeth into, and a big yield. The result is satisfactory, it ought to be inspiring, to a thousand and more others to go and do likewise.

It looks like the labor unions might with profit consider how they came out in the late melee in the Republican camp. Viewing it most tolerantly, it didn't commend itself highly to the on-looker to see one set of officers of certain unions apparently endorsing one candidate for mayor, while another set of officers from the unions were endorsing another. A little less promiscuous handling about of official signatures wouldn't hurt at all.

Meet In New Hall

The Women's Benefit Association of the Maccabees held their regular meeting Tuesday evening in their new hall, Sixth and Chillicothe streets. There was a good attendance. The election of officers will be held the first meeting night in September. A social affair will follow the election.

We trust nothing personal is intended in the thrust of the Huntington Advertiser that some people are so concerned about growing and preserving trees that they haven't time to cut the weeds in their back yard.

The prospect of enormous crops and steady widening of activity in the steel industry gives Henry Claws reason to say that the coming fall season promises to be a satisfactory one for the United States.

New York, August 18.—Old Bill Snyder wins again! For weeks the veteran friend of animals in the Central Park Zoo has maintained a baby zebra makes his debut with his stripes distinctly marked. Other keepers said the stripes came with age. The question was settled last week by Mrs. Nancy Zebra. It was a boy.

The four spindling legs with a touch of baby zebra on top won't hold him up. It touched him deeply. He wants to know what hour of desperation has brought a real man down to dressing in the robes of laziness? He asks plaintively: What was it? Rum?

The passing on of George Fitch, the humorist, while visiting in California, was a shock to his hosts of friends in New York, where he often visited. He had numerous offers of magazines and newspapers here but always preferred to live in Peoria. He did not believe a man could be a humorist and live in a big city.

Charles R. Barnes, known up and down Broadway as the writer of famous stories about Tenderloin characters, has been starring in what might be made into a movie thriller down at Atlantic City. Barnes and his wife opened their summer cottage there several months ago.

They have a baby being cared for in an incubator there and not long ago two persons forced their way into the incubator place and demanded to see the Barnes baby. They returned several times and Barnes became so alarmed that he notified Chief of Police Woodruff. That official quickly placed two plain clothes men on the job with orders to arrest any one who attempted to molest the baby.

Barnes refused to discuss the case as the publicity has been very distasteful but correspondents for out-of-town papers have learned that kidnapping was probably attempted. The principals are a New York woman, well known in the Broadway grills, and an Atlantic City man. It is thought that the baby was to be held for a ransom. Barnes literary friends are wondering what would constitute a ransom from an author—25 or 40 cents?

It was the time of the Famous Rush for home on Fifth Avenue. A bibulous party driving a hearse—which is E. L. T.'s aptonym for a Ford—had three friends with him in a similar condition. At Forty-Seventh street and Fifth Avenue the bibulous party stalled his engine.

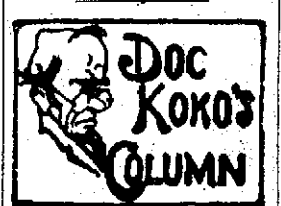

He was not even non-plused. He nonchalantly dug in his inside coat pocket and brought forth two base burners with gold bands and held them out to the traffic cop.

"Crack her up for me, will you, Cap?" said he. And the crowd turned their heads away with a shudder for the impending catastrophe. When a few more courageous ones looked up the officer was cracking the car. There isn't any moral to the story.

Don Marquis has just seen a six-footer on Broadway in a sport shirt. It touched him deeply. He wants to know what hour of desperation has brought a real man down to dressing in the robes of laziness? He asks plaintively: What was it? Rum?

Nineteen Fifteen Model
Behold the newest summer girl in Vandyke skirt that shows at every bend and bow and whirl. Her varicolored hose. And shoes of purple, pink and green. And many shades that lie between.

Last year she was a thing of lines. With blouse decollete. But now her fickle taste inclines. To give her ankles play. And swathe her neck with collars high. And flimsy frills to catch the eye.

She turns her thoughts to winter's chill. If she be up to date, And round her slender shoulders still. Wears furs immaculate, And bears a parasol for shade, Lest she might tan, the foolish maid!

And just above her nose she ties A veil whose silken threads Enhance the splendor of her eyes. And turn admirer's heads, Until they follow, unashamed, Wherever she leads, completely tamed.

Her costumes vary every year, From most ornate to simple, But each new season she's as dear. With blush and curl and dimple; She will not lose her charm, I'm sure, While girls and styles—and men—endure. —Chicago News.

The depression in business caused a local jeweler to discharge his experienced man, replacing him with a high-school graduate—a youth just out of school. He appeared very anxious to learn, and the proprietor at the end of the first week was much pleased with results. "Fine my boy!" said the jeweler, enthusiastically. "We'll make an Al salesman out of you one of these days. You got the regular price for them, of course?"

JR. O. U. A. M. CAMP PRAISED BY ARMY OFFICER

Big Minstrel To Be Given Tonight At The High School

Camp Llewellyn was visited Tuesday evening by Major Edward Wittenmyer, U. S. A., with headquarters at Havana, Cuba, who is enjoying a furlough at present. Major Wittenmyer, accompanied by his cousin, Judge James S. Thomas, of this city, made a thorough inspection of the camp, visiting the different regimental and battalion headquarters, the hospital and commissary departments and the privates' tents.

Before leaving he called on Colonel Llewellyn and Yarnell and complimented them highly upon the general appearance of the camp and the soldierly demeanor and excellent appearance of the men. He especially commended the two colonels on their appearance and bearing, and told them that they resembled regular army officers. The camp equipment also came in for its share of praise from Major Wittenmyer, whose thirty years of service in the regular army qualifies him to speak authoritatively.

Big Crowd Sees Dress Parade

Dress parade Tuesday evening was witnessed by a large crowd of local people, who lined the flood wall and other available space near the parade grounds. The fancy maneuvers were well executed and were greatly admired.

All camp energies were bent Wednesday on making the minstrel performance at the high school auditorium this evening a big success. The performance is given by the officers and privates of the Second Regiment of Cincinnati and is said to be a success.

"The Grassville Guards," a detachment from the Second Regiment, paraded the streets Tuesday evening in comic costumes, headed by the regimental drum corps, advertising the big show. The Guards were made up in all sorts of grotesque attire, and provided amusement for the people on the street. Clarence Leiffing, the Charlie Chaplin of the camp, also advertised the show on the streets during the evening.

Sham Battle

Is Coming

With the minstrel over, the officers will direct their attention to the big sham battle at Millbrook Park next Saturday afternoon, which is expected to attract a tremendous crowd. It will be the first sham battle staged in Portsmouth in years. Officers and privates of the two regiments will be in full regulation uniform, with the regulation equipment and the spectacle should be an inspiring one.

Camp Llewellyn Notes.

A real court martial was held at Col. Yarnell's headquarters Wednesday morning, Capt. R. E. Jenny being brought before the colonel for leaving camp Tuesday without permission. Capt. Jenny went to Ironton Tuesday morning to spend the day with relatives, and upon his return Tuesday evening was placed under arrest and placed in the custody of Major Beard over night.

Major Beard was unable to enter the tent where Capt. Jenny was lodged Wednesday morning, and the guard was sent to force an entrance. Col. Yarnell detailed three special men with the guard who entered the tent and took Capt. Jenny into custody.

The prisoner was taken before Col. Yarnell, who sentenced him to five hours in the guard house. A detail was placed on guard, but a half hour later Capt. Jenny broke loose from the guard house, and, eluding his pursuers, ran away from camp. He was captured a little later in a barn behind the city buildings, where he had taken refuge. He was returned to the guard house and an extra guard was placed over him.

Where is G. W. Schmidt, the regimental quartermaster? That was the question on the lips of every man in camp Tuesday night. Schmidt disappeared Tuesday evening as if the earth had swallowed him, and was still missing Wednesday morning, despite the fact that Captain Cooper had two detectives in search for him the greater part of the night. Schmidt was the liveliest man in camp, and is missed greatly. His friends are confident that he will turn up all right with an exciting tale of his adventure.

The new fifty-foot steel B. & O. S.-W. culvert over Gallia pike at Sciotoville was completed on Tuesday afternoon and the evening train used it for the first time. The new span will allow the pike at this point to be straightened out, the former wooden trestle having made it necessary to have a curve in the pike.

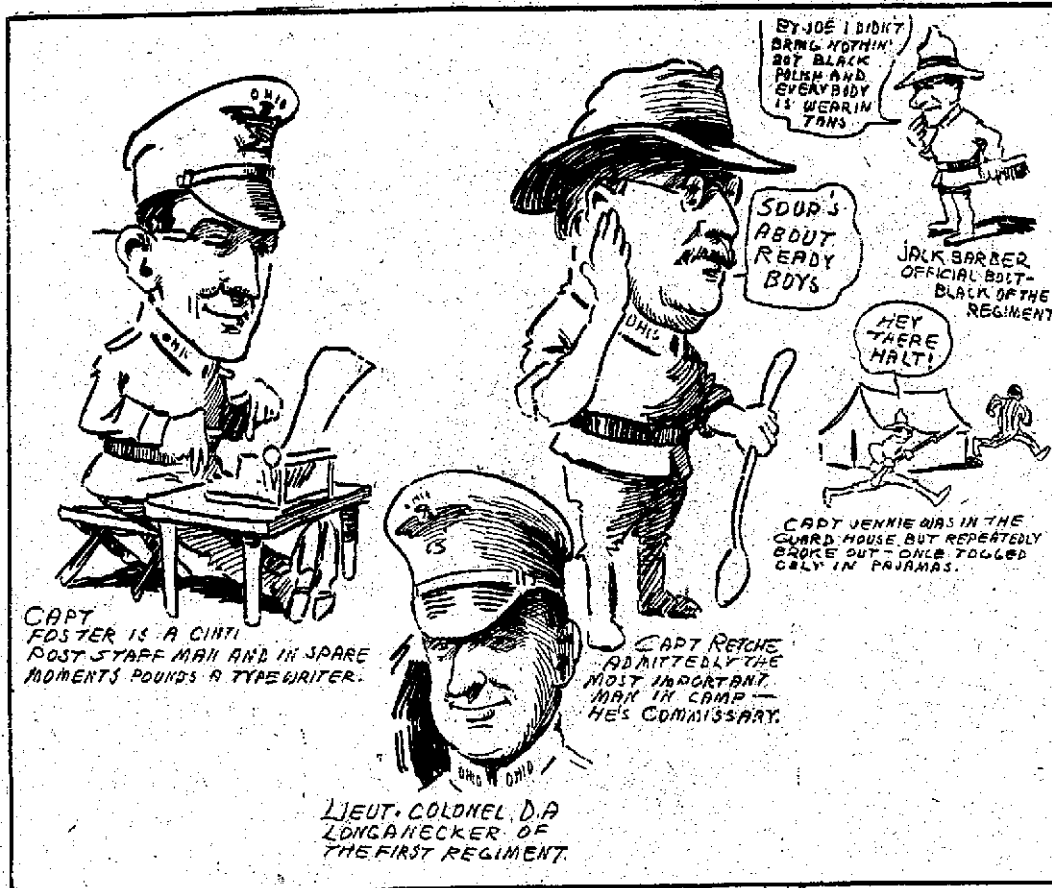

The B. & O. S.-W. train going to Hamilton Tuesday morning was made up in the local yard of several cabooses in which the passengers were carried to Sciotoville and transferred to the passenger coaches of the evening train.

Attended Reunion

SPECIALS TO BIG FAIR

Two special trains will be run to the Lucasville fair grounds Thursday, August 19, by the Norfolk and Western and the round trip fare will be 50 cents. The first train leaves at 10:30 Thursday morning and the second one will leave at 1 p. m. The returning train will leave Lucasville at 5:30 p. m. No doubt the trains will carry hundreds of local people to the Lucasville fair, which will be one of the best held in southern Ohio.

Autos Collide In Bridge, No One Hurt

The Ironton Irontonian Wednesday says: "Automobiles driven by E. M. Nease, chemist at the Hlanging Rock, Iarnace, and Joe Thompson, well known veterinary, collided at the eastern entrance to the Hlanging Rock covered bridge Tuesday afternoon. Both cars were damaged to some extent, but fortunately neither of the drivers, who were the only occupants of the cars, were injured. Mr. Thompson lays the blame for the accident entirely upon Mr. Nease, as he says he had brought his car to a stop before the collision occurred."

The Movies

"Graustark" With Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne. Columbia Today

This is the day that you have been waiting for. Don't overlook this opportunity to see "Graustark," that big Essanay masterpiece in six reels, reproducing George Barr Mowat's greatest story with Francis X. Bushman, Beverly Bayne, Bryant Washburn, Edna Mayo and an all star cast of Essanay actors.

This picture has been a real sensation wherever shown and the big city theatres, with their large seating capacities, have not been able to take care of the crowds, who have flocked to see this wonderful picture reproducing, as it does, a popular story that has been read by almost every man, woman and child in this country.

The first show this afternoon will start positively at 1:00 o'clock; the second at 2:45 and then again at 4:30. All seats 10 cents. The first evening show promptly at 6:30, then at 8:00 and 9:30. Adults 20 cents and children under 12 at 10 cents.

LUCASVILLE FAIR OPENS WITH A BIG RUSH

Exhibits Placed; Shows Open; Races On This Afternoon

The Scioto County Fair at Lucasville started off with a rush Wednesday morning, directors reporting that the attendance was greater than they had expected in the forenoon. This crowd will increase as the day goes on, as a large number of people from this city are expected to go by automobile at noon.

Clyde Brant, in charge of the Art Hall, stated Wednesday morning that the Art Hall was running over with exhibits, and that he was having trouble finding room for them all. He said that the exhibits this year exceeded those of former years by a wide margin.

The same condition obtains in the stock department, where difficulty is experienced in finding suitable room for the large number of fine specimens of horses, cattle, sheep, hogs and poultry are entered.

Many Interesting Shows On Ground

Plenty of attractions opened up on the grounds this morning, including the merry-go-round, the Rector's show, and others. Free exhibitions of bag punching, larriat throwing, fancy shooting and tight wire walking will be given this afternoon between races by members of the Rector's troupe.

Refreshment stands and lunch booths are there in abundance, and patrons of the fair can rest assured that they will miss none of the delights that go with a County Fair.

MAYOR SAYS HE WILL OPPOSE OPENING OF 'MOVIES' ON SUNDAY

In reply to a request from P. M. Burdick, recording secretary of Central Labor Council, as to his attitude on allowing motion pictures to operate on Sunday, Mayor Adam Frick Wednesday announced that he was absolutely opposed to such a movement. Central Labor Council at a meeting Monday night passed a resolution favoring the operation of motion picture shows on Sunday in this city.

According to Mr. Burdick, after a consultation with the mayor Tuesday afternoon, and believing that the mayor would permit the operation of shows, providing a majority of the voters of the city favored it, petitions were circulated about the city for voters to sign. By Wednesday morning Mr. Burdick stated that they had many signatures.

The mayor's reply to the communication from Central Labor Council is as follows:

August 16, 1915.

The Central Labor Council, Mr. P. M. Burdick, Rec. Sec., Portsmouth, Ohio.

My Dear Sir:

I have the honor to acknowledge receipt under date the sixteenth instant the following:

"Portsmouth, Ohio, Aug. 15, '15

"Hon. Adam Frick, Mayor of the City of Portsmouth.

"Esteemed Mayor:

"At a meeting of Central Labor Council held this date the following resolution was unanimously endorsed and adopted, and we sincerely hope that you will give it your attention and support.

"A resolution to allow picture theatres open on Sundays.

"Whereas, the working men of the City of Portsmouth, who work six days a week have no place of amusement to spend their Sunday in the city, compelling them to leave the city for amusement they may wish, thereby taking considerable money out of the city to be spent elsewhere, and

"Whereas, the City of Portsmouth is the largest city in the state of Ohio in which motion picture theatres are closed, leaving no place of amusement open and compelling many people to leave the city, taking with them money that would be spent in Portsmouth,

"Therefore, he it resolved by Central Labor Council, that we use all our influence with our Honorable Mayor to persuade him to allow picture theatres open in Portsmouth between the hours of 12 noon and 6 p. m., and from 8 p. m. to 10 p. m., thus not interfering with the hours of devotional services.

"Very truly yours,

"F. M. BURDICK,

"Sec. C. L. C."

To which I indulge the pleasure of submitting as my official reply the following:

It is well at all times to view with favor every resolution that may have received the approval of the members of such an association of men as compose the Central Labor Council of this or any other city. This because they have in mind such problems that have to do with making it possible to secure for themselves and their families the necessities of life in greater abundance without increased strain upon their physical or their mental faculties, and for all of which I have the most profound regard and fully believe that the resources of the human unit in their relative importance should be more carefully husbanded than are the resources of the earth, its contents or its production.

I shall, however, not lose sight of the fact that in my sympathy for that great mass of citizens who are at this time in crying need of bread, more warmth for their bodies and greater comfort for their souls, who are daily losing their independence as a part of the industrial life of our nation, that they need no further entertainments that may add to or be a part of their current daily expenses. This as set out in your resolution, I regard as neither necessary nor expedient.

Picture shows and their productions, now necessary to undergo censor before a bureau maintained by the state that they may be confined within certain moral restrictions prior to presenting such before the public six days in the week, would not, I am quite certain, add polish or refinement to ourselves as a people presented on Sunday. It cannot, it seems to me, be said at this time, that those who now desire cannot, under present working schedules, have ample time in which to view these pictures during working days or of such evenings, and, thereby should at least, as far as they are able to give of their earnings, satisfy their ambition or their needs before the picture world.

Because I am opposed to commercializing any class of entertainment or business on Sunday and believing that picture shows neither add to our social conditions or our general welfare as a people, I have no hesitancy in declining at this time, neither will I at any future time, grant your request to permit picture shows to operate any part of any Sunday.

I have taken quite liberally of your time in presenting my views, this I have done by way of advising you fully that hereafter I may answer all similar requests in either the affirmative or the negative by "YES" or "NO". Believing that the great mass of citizens whom, at this time, I have the honor to represent know full well my attitude upon all public questions and are likewise conversant with the principles that I represent. Therefore, it will be entirely unnecessary for me to take either of your or my time in presenting certain matters of fact that are so well known.

So long as I may be entrusted with the duty and care of promoting the best interests of the citizens of your city my conscience shall be my guide which I shall keep wholly free from the attitude that any other citizen or candidate may assume with respect similar questions. Your petition, if presented, will be reviewed at my convenience, this in response to your wish that I gain the expression of our citizens on the question presented but shall not in any way prejudice or induce me to yield in my attitude toward compromising as to hours or the use of any part or any Sunday for the entertainment mentioned in your resolution, or for any similar purpose.

Respectfully submitted,

ADAM FRICK, Mayor.

TRAIN PASSES OVER 2 CHILDREN; THEY LIVE

Two children, Elizabeth and Mary Whalen, thrown beneath a train composed of a shifter engine and empty cars, after having the entire train pass above their bodies, lived to tell of their experience. Providence so directed their fall as to snatch them from the clutch of death and keep them from sustaining even serious injury. Other members of the same party who figured in an accident in Sycamore Hollow, near Matamoras, W. Va., were taken to a hospital on a special train.

Mrs. Mullins, three children, Elizabeth, Mary and Maude Whalen, Charles Colburn and Leo Yeager were coming out of Sycamore Hollow, near Matamoras, W. Va., from the Sycamore mines to meet N. & W. train No. 8. They were riding on a truck used in hauling goods from the main line to the mines, a distance of about two miles. On a steep grade coming around a heavy curve the party on the truck met a shifter pushing a train of empties. Every member of the party was thrown off the truck, but none was killed. Mrs. Mullins was the most seriously hurt.
